The list includes dress suits, davenports, refrigerators, children's clothing, brica-brac, silverware and china.

So great has been the rush for bargains on the two week days that the shop has been open, that Mrs. George H. Both windows in the room where the Hutchinsons roomed were broken, and the rain just poured in, right through the whole house,—there was just one corner where we could stay dry. About 12 o'clock it abated, and Mac went out and got provisions and ice,—only cold things because we had no gas, electricity or water. We all went to bed together downstairs again, and before long it was pouring again. We had to bore holes in the floor to let the water out, and keep sweeping the whole house from top to bottom,—that its, sweeping the water out.

Mother, you can't imagine what it looks like. The Sterling apartments that we used to go by when going to the store a complete wreck,—houses and apartments with whole roofs off and in the street, and some with the whole side knocked out, leaving the furniture in place, looking like a dollhouse. Many people were injured, and the Hotel McAllister and Hotel Halcyon are emergency hospitals, and many civilians are doing duty as nurses, and the men are doing traffic duty through the whole city. Many of the big boats were blown right up over the fill, and are in front of the Hotel McAllister and the Royal Palm Hotel,—almost all of the beautiful cocoanut trees are either down or stripped of all foliage, and big pine trees down everywhere. They say that Hollywood is practically wiped out, and also Fort Lauderdale, and there are many unknown dead. Hialeah was badly hit, and many dead. They won't let anybody go over to the beach, and

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

NEWTON 10-PROV. TECH 7

Showing marked improvement over the opening game with Quincy the Newton high school football team battled its way to a 10 to 7 last minute victory over the strong Providence Technical school eleven on Claffin Field last Saturday. The field was in much better condition than the week before as the heavy rain on Friday laid the dust. Newton, although outweighed nearly fifteen pounds per man, outplayed the visitors by a big margin. Once again Newton can thank Frank Spain, its quarterback, for pulling the team through to victory. It was his field goal from the 27-yard line with less than a minute to play that broke the 7-7 tie and gave Newton the game.

Chalk up another win for Frank spain. It was the second time in as many games that his field goal brought victory to Newton. After the Newton line had held Providence two feet from the goal line and Proctor's kick went offside on the 15-yard line giving Tech another chance it looked as though the game would end in a 7-7 tie. Spain was ably supported by his other backfield mates. Far more so than against Quincy. The line, too, worked in better unison than it did against the Granite city outfit. If the entire team continues to show the improvement it has already made Newton will not be far behind the leading scholastic elevens in the state. Whatever team Newton faces it will know that it has been in a hard and clean game. No predictions can be made regarding league or state champlonships as regards the orange and black. SPORT NOTES

This year's golf tournaments have seen the name E. S. Stimpson Jr. in the majority of the qualifying rounds. Since graduating from Harvard he has taken a prominent place in golfing scircles around Boston. During his stay at Newton, he was instigator of the golf team and captain of the same his last two years, then continued the golfers, due to his tournament play, and the ability he showed in the Nastional Amateur Tourney, held last week.

At Cushing Academy in Ashburnham there are two Newton boys whowemements of last year's varsity football team. Melbourne Hemeon, more commonly known as "Bo", and Wallace Johnson, both capable perfonts are out for the eleven and have more than an even chance of making it. FRANK WESTON'S ASHES SCATTERED AT WABAN

Last Friday evening, at sunset, a score of men, members of the old Boston Bicycle Club, gathered at the rear of a bungalow on Kewadin road, to assist in a final tribute to a former comrade who died 15 years ago. Frank W. Weston, one of the founders of the Boston Bicycle Club, many years ago owned and lived in the little bungalow which was then surrounded by woods between Kewadin and Quinobequin roads. He had not resided there long, when his wife died, and shortly afterwards Mr. Weston moved from the place to enter a home for old men, where he died within a week of his arrival. of his arrival. When Mrs. Weston died her re

When Mrs. Weston died her remains were cremated and the ashes brought back to his home by her husband. When he died the bungalow was sold together with its furnishings, just as it stood. Finally, after some time had elapsed the new owner wished to dispose of Mrs. Weston's ashes, and after consulting with friends of the deceased, scattered the ashes in the grove at the rear of the bungalow.

ashes in the grove at the rear of the bungalow.

Last Spring, one of Mr. Weston's old comrades in the bicycle club, Fred Stark, saw an advertisement of an insurance company seeking heirs of Frank W. Weston. A policy and interest, amounting to $1300, was awaiting some claimant. After considerable effort, Mr. Stark effected the payment of this money to a woman, who as a small child had been adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Weston. In the course of his investigation of Mr. Weston's estate, Mr. Stark discovered that the ashes of his old friend had never been taken from the establishment of the undertaker who had conducted the funeral. Mr. Stark conferred with the survivors of the old bicycle club, who still meet occasionally for the sake of Auld Lang Syne, and the ceremony of Friday evening resulted.

So, as the dusk gathered over the spot which Mr. Weston had loved, Quincy Kirby, president of the Boston Bicycle Club, read an original poem dedicated to the departed member, and then received the urn containing the ashes from Dr. Walter Kendall, a prominent member of the club. The ashes were reverently scattered under the trees, where those of Mrs. Weston had been strewn some years past.

New England Conference
October 6, 7, and 8 are the dates for the New England Conference, and the Mountain View House. Whitefield, New Hampshire is the enticing place of meeting. Mrs. Harry H, Burnham of Biddeford, Maine, the Chairman of the Conference, says this is one of the most beautiful spots in the White Mountains, that this hotel, opened only occasionally to conventions, is to be occasionally to conventions, is to be opened by especial favor to this con-ference, so that the vision conjured up by the name of the hotel, by the up by the name of the hotel, by the spell of autumn beauty in the mountains in this coming month, seem to have basis in fact for such mental visualizing. Clubwomen who are fortunate enough to steal away for these few days, therefore, should have a most delightful outing, not to mention the foundation in inspiration of information that will be given at such a gathering. More prosaic details of interest include the rates, which are $7 per day with bath, or $6 per day, without bath, per person, American plan.

Mrs. Guy E. Speare, president of the hostess State, announces that the guest of honor will be Mrs. Edward Franklin White of Indiana, first vice-president of the National organization and a foremost legal and legislative authority, and she hopes to have as another distinguished guest Mrs. H. H. A. Beach, the composer. Clubwomen who attended the midwinter meeting of the State Federation at the Colonial Theatre, Boston, will recall Mrs. White's able presentation of the Wadsworth-Garrett amendment, by which amendments to the Constitution would be eliminated, and how much more than a match she was for the National Senator who opposed her, but who favored this method of muzzling progress and public opinion. There will be Round Table discussions led by the six state presidents, relating to topics of interest to all New England.

Among the delightful outings balanced is a motor trip for delegates.

'Why, more hay, more hay.'"

Samoans Still Fear Old Spirits of Evil

Samoan's love for ceremony, especially dignified ceremony, and for singing, has helped much in making him a church member and regular service attendant. But even with his acceptance of Christianity he still, in many cases, keeps a weather eye open for the ancient aitu (devil) that had the fear and respect of his ancestors. The aitu may be a back number, but you never can tell says the Dear-born Independent.

There was the young fellow, for instance, who showed his irreverence a couple of years ago by walking across an old chief's grave. His family and every one else warned him about the aitu, did they not? Still he walked on the grave. A few days later he had a bad cold. Shortly after he was dead.

Quick tuberculosis.

How much better it is for a Christian or any one to respect ancient things and thus not arouse the wrath of the aitu on guard! So the Samoan gives the aitu a wide berth, hoping his slumbers among the holy places he guards will be undisturbed so long that they will become permanent.

He, therefore, ordered the lightning conductors on Kew palace to have blunt instead of pointed ends. When he asked Sir John Pringle, then president of the Royal society, what he thought of the change, Sir John Pringle told him plainly that "the laws of nature are not changeable at the royal pleasure." This annoyed his majesty so much that he suggested Sir John had better resign his presidency of the royal society. He did so, and the breach between them was never healed. Sides were taken over the quarrel, the court naturally supporting the king, while the wits sympathized with Sir John.

once said at a banquet in Montpelier during his governorship:

"For pluck give me your Vermont farmer every time. Old Jerome Mc. Wade, though seventy-three, was hale and hearty, and one day when his two sons got to bragging about their strength Jerome swore he could load hay as fast as they could pitch it.
"So down to the fields they went, and Jerome got in a hay wagon with his fork, and the two boys began to pitch the hay up to him fast and furious.

"Jerome worked like a demon, and all the time he kept calling down in a jeering way, 'More Hay! More hay!"

"But after a time, of course, his years began to tell on him. His loading got very untidy. The sun felt hot ter and hotter on his back. Still, as he staggered about, he kept yelling. 'More hay! More hay! Then, all of a sudden, he tripped and fell out of the wagon.

Mr. Noble took insurance for his subject and related how the business was first started at an English taven, named "Lloyds" where a group of men noticed that on an average, one of their number each year, was unfortunate and suggested that each contribute to a fund which could be used to help the unfortunates. Mr. Noble told of the peculiar losses in the insurance field. One man kept his truck in the cellar of his house during the winter and in attempting to start it in the spring, set he house on fire.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

The forty-fifth annual report of the trustees of Newton Hospital made public yesterday at the regular annual meeting of the board indicated clearly that the hospital is functioning "above capacity." That is, it is caring for more patients than a grade A hospital can reasonably be expected to care for. This statement was supported by figures furnished by Dr. George L. West, medical director, and Miss Bertha W Allen superintendent rustees of Newton Hospital made pub-figures furnished by Dr. George L. West, medical director, and Miss Bertha W. Allen, superintendent.

It was indicated in the report of Leon B. Rogers, chairman of the building committee, that the contractors would probably break ground next spring for the new $1,500,000 hospital and nurses home. Two-thirds of the fund for these buildings is now in hand, in cash or pledges, from the current money-raising campaign.

Ohio's First Sawmill Located at Marietta

first sawmill was built at Marietta in 1789. The crank, weighing 180 pounds, was made in New Haven Conn., and taken by "pack horse" over the mountains to Simrals' Ferry on the Youghlogheny river, and thence by water, says the Antiquarian. The mill near Colebrook was of great importance to the settlers. It was on a small stream, and had an overshot wheel. Logs were converted into boards, and the long-talked-of "frame" house could be built The mail was sent and brought by

"runners." "Through" mail was car nated by a wooden tag attached to it, and the "way" mail was tied in a handkerchief. The post boy "ran" the mail at first on foot—then on horseback. When their fields were cleared, flan was sown that these pioneers might weave, on their handmade looms, linen and cloth materials with which to clothe themselves.

We wonder at, and revere, the per sistent diligence of these forefathers of ours; for they seem to have had no time nor inclination to be indolent or inactive.

Obligation and Right Constitute Legal Tie

An obligation in law is defined as "a legal tie that binds us to another, either to give him something, or to do or abstain from doing some act." For instance, an agreement or contract of sale creates a legal tie be tween the two parties, the seller being obliged to deliver the thing sold and warrant it, and the buyer being obliged to pay the price. In ordinary use obligation has a different meaning from right. A person is obliged to do that which he can be compelled by law to do, but a right commonly means something that one can compel others to do. For instance, it would not be correct to say that a landowner has a right to build half the line fence. He is obliged—under legal obligation—to build half of such fence, and he has the right to compel the adjoining owner to fulfill his obligation and build the other half. Generally speaking, obligation and right are the opposite ends of the legal tie, the obliga tion of one party being the right of the other. The noun, obligation, and the verb, obligate, are from the Latin

Parliamentary Term

The parliamentary clerk of the house of representatives says that as a mat-ter of fact there is no minority passage of a bill in either branch of congress, but the phrase in all probability refers to the fact that legislation may be passed by a majority vote of the Aiken (Katherine Chisholm) of Walmembers present, if a quorum is present. Very often a measure will be pased by a majority of the members present, which number is not a major ity of the members elected. For example, a majority of the membership of the house is 218, but in the event only 300 members are present during the vote on the passage of the bill the vote could be 151 to 149 and the bill would be passed by a majority. This does not mean that a minority passes the bill, because it is presumed that those that are absent acquiesce in the action taken by a majority of those

Famous Work of Art

A famous painting of Eleanor, duchess of Gloucester, by Edwin Abbey, illustrates an episode in scene 4, act 2 part 2, of King Henry VI. The king had just married Margaret of France The duke of Gloucester was the king's protector, and Eleanor dreamed a dream in which "Henry and Dame Margaret kneeled to me and on my head did sit the diadem." She was ambitious both for herself and her husband, and ambition carried her too far. Offending the queen, she played into the hands of her husband's ene mies and was charged with disloyalty, tried and convicted. Because of her noble birth. Eleanor was not put to death, but was obliged to do three day's open penance and banished to the Isle of Man. Abbey's painting depicts the street scene

EDITORIALS

The platform of the Democratic party on the prohibition issue is a palpable bid for the votes of those Republicans who are inclined to be "wet" for it is a recognized fact that Democratic candidates cannot be elected in this state without the aid of Republican votes. We do not believe that any Republican who gives thought to the situation will be misled by this action of the Democratic party.

Centering the campaign on a single point ignores many other important issues. The tariff, for instance, is of direct concern to residents of Massachusetts, but if a United States Senator is elected because he is "wet", his attitude on the tariff may do Massachusetts industries a great deal of harm. Many of us are also interested in revising the rules of the United States Senate as suggested by Vice President Dawes. Mr. Walsh will not favor any revision of these rules, and "wet" Republicans who vote for him, are thereby impeding a great reform in our national Legislature. In the second place, the election of a "wet" United States senator, will not have the slightest effect on the prohibition issue. These United States are dry because the dry states of the South and West have a large majority in both houses of Congress and one or two more "wet" votes from New England, New York and New Jersey, will not change the situation. The Republicans of Massachusetts should not be diverted from supporting Republican nomniese by any camouflaged issues of the Democratic party.

We note with regret that the Republican party platform this year fails to take any position on the repeal or modification of the present direct primary law. The experiences of Pennsylvania and Illinois, where enormous sums of money were spent for the coveted nominations to our own experiences this fall when important offices were filled by a vote of but 6 percent of the electorate, should have moved our party leaders to continue the agitation for an improvement in this fallacious method of selecting party nominees.

Newton bids farewell with sorrow-ing hearts to Rev. Dr. J. Edgar Park of the Second Church and Rev. Dr. Edward Payson Drew of the Auburndale Congregational church and wishes them God speed and great success in their new fields of labor.

Congratulations to West Newton on its new branch library and to the ladies of that village on the success which has crowned their work. We suggest that the other villages of this city should go and do likewise.

REAL ESTATE

Some of the twenty-story office buildings are just ready to topple over—but it shows the buildings that were well built,—for I am now writing this in the Olympia building, and there is hardly any damage done to it.

Mac's partner and family are over to the beach,—you know, Mother, Raymond,—and they were staying in an apartment right on the Shore Drive, and he is quite worried about them,—you see, there is no way of getting any word of anybody over there.

I can't think of half of the horrible things, but know that I am thankful to be alive with a place to sleep.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Rarage situated at 215 Tremont street, Newton, to Mr. John Glynn, Mr. Glynn intends to occupy. The property is valued at $17,500.

Mr. F. O. Burkholder of Chicago, formerly of Newtonville, has sold through the Burns office his estate at 206 Mill street, consisting of Dutch colonial house with fireproof garage and 9000 ft. of land, valued at $17,000. Mr. David Barry purchases the property for occupancy.

Burns and Sons also report that they have sold for Mrs. Eleanor Tyler of Washington, D. C., the property at 18 Maple terrace, Auburndale. This single frame dwelling, together with 12,000 feet of land, all valued at $14,000, was purchased by Mr. Bruce W. Gardiner.

MATTO ACCIDENTS

Tuesday morning at 8.30 a Dodge car driven by Joseph Chevarley of Thornton street, Newton, collided at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Homer street with a Studebaker avenue, Newton Centre. The Dodge car was tipped over on the side of the street with the larger car resting on it. Both cars were badly damaged. Chevarley received possible internal injuries, his right arm was broken in two places and his face badly cut. His wife had her nose broken. They were taken to the Newton Hospital by massing autoists.

Monday afternoon at the corner of Beacon street and Hancock avenue a Rolls Royce car owned by S. Wells of Washington, D. C., cut in on a Ford sedan driven by George Diggs of Norwwood.

Thought for the Day.

Anything that pays for itself is worth all it costs.

Only two centuries ago beavers inhabited the greater part of the North American continent and were an important source of food and warm clothing to the natives.

One of the most amazing of royal mysteries was recalled by the celebration of the supposed centenary of the Czar Alexander I of Russia. After Alexander's "death" on November 18, 1825, it was rumored that an empty coffin had been lowered into the earth in the imperial burial place, and that the czar was spending the evening of his days in prayer and contemplation. Popular belief, indeed, identified a hermit, calling himself Fedor Kus-mitch, with the late monarch. Kus-mitch, whose past life was a complete mystery, appeared about this time in the depths of the Siberian forest. He was frequently visited by the Czar Nicholas I, who treated him with the most profound respect.

If Kusmitch were really Alexander I, he carried his secret with him to the grave. But a new turn was given to speculation on the subject some years ago, when the tombs of the czars were opened by order of the Soviet authorities. The original seals on the coffin of Alexander I were still intact, but when it was opened there was nothing in it but a few lumps of lead.

Two Conflicts Known as "Battle of Spurs"

The Battle of Spurs is a name given to two engagements widely separated in point of time. The first battle was fought at Courtrai, in Flanders in 1302 between the nobles and the burghers. The knights and gentle-men of France were entirely over-thrown by the citizens of a Flemish for Belgian) manufacturing town.

The French nobility rode forward with loose bridles and fell headlong into an enormous ditch which lay between them and their enemy. The whole army of these nobles and gentry was annihilated, and when the spoils were gathered, there were found 4,-000 golden spurs to mark the extent of the kingstry staughter, and give a name to the engagement.

The second engagement to which had been given the name, the Battle of Spurs, was the affair at Guinegate, near Calais, France, in 1513, in which the English troops under Henry VIII defeated the French forces. The allusion to spurs is said to be to the unusual energy of the beaten troops in riding off the field of battle. They made good was of their substitutions. made good use of their spurs.

Newspaper Printing

Rotary presses, which are used by most large newspapers today, print from curved plates fixed on cylinders, which are constantly revolving and constantly printing. They are not fed with single sheets, but with a long web of paper, the press itself cutting off the desired length of sheet from the reel, either before or after the printing is completed. Practically all these presses have folding attachments which deliver the paper folded and ready for delivery. The simplest form has four cylinders, two for the stereo plates and two to give the im-pression, but as newspapers have grown in size it has been necessary to add one, two or three rows of cylinders above the first set.

Newton has been singularly fortunate in having been free from this "fixing" practice. The ranking officers of the Newton Police Department have consistently refused to "pull off" any of their subordinates when the latter have made charges against persons for violating automobile laws. Our local police officials have been subjected to much criticism from those who have failed to obtain immunity for friends or acquaintances, but they deserve credit for refusing to make for friends or acquaintances, but they deserve credit for refusing to make fish of some and flesh of others. The ranking officers of the Newton Police Department have set an example in this respect which all of their subordinates should follow.

Some of the opposition to gasoline selling station permits has been spontaneous. Some has been stimulated. Some protestants against proposed stations act on their own infitative, while others have been agitated into objecting by parties, who, for business reasons, are opposed to the establishment of stations which will create increased competition. There are many of our citizens who advocate the restriction of gasoline selling stations saying.—"We have enough now, we do not need more." Others say, "We have "Have you any nice young grocers?" induired a flustered young bride, who had intended to ask for chickens.
"Why—why, yes," was the astonished reply at the other end of the wire.
"Well, send me two dressed."
"Dressed?" said the grocer, more astonished than ever.
"Well, no," was the reply, after a moment's reflection. "I believe you may send them undressed. My husband's coming home early, and he can wring their necks and the cook and I will dress them."—The Progressive Grocer.

But Few Will Admit It
Papa was an ardent golfer and his every spare moment was spent on the links. Junior noted the downcast, hang-dog look that papa wore and his inquisitive nature prompted him to ask:

ABOUT TOWN

Anyone desiring to observe modern methods should have seen the work performed by employees of the Boston Elevated in relaying the tracks along Washington street at Newton Corner last week. In addition to replacing the old rails, the uneven cobble stones were removed and the space between the tracks filled to a considerable depth with concrete. Over this a layer of granite blocks was laid and the surface smoothened with cement. In mixing the concrete, a large cement mixer had the assistance of a huge portable conveyor. This machine was mounted on two cars and consisted of several hoppers and a long endless belt. The proper proportions of sand and crushed stone would be shovelled into the hoppers by a few workmen, then dumped onto the belt and swiftly carried by the cars some distance to the cement mixer. There the batch would be mixed and dropped into place between the rails. Then it would be quickly spread into an even layer by a few more workmen laboring with place between the rails. Then it would be quickly spread into an even layer by a few more workmen laboring with great industry. This speedy, mechanical method of performing a job of this kind would have been a revelation to the old inhabitants who were habitues of Nonantum Square a generation ago.

cement at one side was said to be the place where the feet were washed, whether before or after the pressing, we were not informed. The bells at this mission make a beautiful picture. The Mission at Santa Barbara was partially destroyed by the earthquake of last year and is now being restored by the state.

Day, our party being guests of the city of San Francisco and the Chamber of Commerce.

We had an automobile tour of the city and were shown the Presidio preservation of the War Dejartment at the Golden Gate, the Cliff House and the seals, and made altogether took of the Chinatown was served on board the Steamer Maul, by courtesy of the Matson Navigation Company, which operates a line of steamers to Honolulu and the orient. I was particularly pleased at this entertainment as the Maul was the boat on which I returned from Hawaii hast Hawaiian territory made us a brief call while luncheon was served.

The rest of the party enjoyed a boat trip about San Francisco Bay after lunch, but the pace had been so strenuous that Mrs. B. and myself took that opportunity for a much needed rest.

We were ready and waiting, however, early in the evening for a trip took Chinatown, for a special performent the material progress. The performance at the theatre was unique, in that the stage hands worked with the actors as the play progressed. The orchestra kept up a bedian of noise throughout the entire play, which was said to represent the materials and the student of the chinese dinner, as the guests of the Chinatown, for a special performent the matriage of a student and a fairy. THE SERVICE THAT STARTS THE WEEK RIGHT

How many hours do you spend on the business of keeping clean?

Many women are wisely deciding that too much time and effort goes into this phase of living, and so we are able to make our prices within reach of the most modest budget.

Have you ever tried our Flat and Fluff Dry Service? All the household linens are washed and exquisitely ironed; all the family wearing apparel is washed and dried. There is only a small part left for you to finish up at home. All this at only 10c per pound plus 1c for each piece. Minimum charge, 60 cents.

Why not try this service this week?

DOROTHY SPEARE MAKES OPERA DEBUT

Mrs. Franklin B. Christmas, who as Mrs. Franklin B. Christmas, who as Dorothy Speare of Newton Centre, won fame by writing several novels depicting the younger generation, has recently proven that she is talented in music as well as in literature. On September 14 she made her debut in grand opera at Asti, Italy, taking an important part in "Lucia de Lamermoor." She graduated from Smith College in 1919 and two years ago married Mr. Christmas, who is a Princeton graduate. He is a baritone business trip.

Announcing

That the alterations and improvements to our enlarged Luncheon Room and Candy Par-lor have been completed, and we solicit your inspection and patronage. We have spared no expense to make our store one of the most attractive of its kind in Greater Boston.

The decorations are carried out in early Georgian effect. The rich mahogany woodwork, counters and panels harmonize pleas-ingly with the floor of large block tiles in black and cream with soft colored veins. The lighting fixtures are of old wrought iron, draped with amber and clear crystal, copied from rare old English models. The curtains are of gay colored chintz.

The superior products made by RANDALL are now dispensed in a setting in keeping with their quality.

AMBLER-BACON

The wedding of Miss Margaret Bacon, Smith '17, the daughter of Judge and drs, William F. Bacon, and Mr. Ed-ward Vassar Ambler of Gloucester, ook place Wednesday evening in El-ot church, which was attractively decated with palms and yellow chrys-

The bride's gown was of pearl white satin trimmed with net cut work edged in silver. The veil was of silk net with head dress of old lace trimmed with pearls and orange blossoms. She carried an old fashioned boquet of white roses and Illies of the valley. Mrs. F. Sayford Bacon, sister in law of the bride, was the matron of honor and was dressed in a robe de style of yellow taffeta flanged with tulle and also carried an old fashioned boquet. The bridesmaids were the Misses Bertha Conger of Washingtonville, N. Y. Mary Halsey of Jamaica Plain, Gladys Burdick of Newton and Florence G. Walsh of Cleveland, Ohio. Two of the bridesmaids wore yellow taffeta with bouffant maline skirts over taffets and two wore wellow taffets.

ith bouffant maline skirts over taf-eta and two were in orchid taffeta of e same style. All carried old fash-ned boquets of orchids and yellow ioned boquets of orchins and year flowers.

The little flower girls, Faith Stan-ton, a cousin of the bride from Provi-dence, R. I., and Bessie Rilla Bacon, a niece of the bride of Newton, wore orchid taffeta dresses with full skirts trimed in ruffles of the same material. Faith carried a basket of yellow flow-ers, while Bessie carried a basket of ers, while Bessie carried a basket of rose petals which she scattered in front of the bridal party.

Mr. Charles Rich of Springfield was the best man, and the guests were ushered by Messrs. F. Sayford Bacon, brother of the bride, William E. Leonard of Newton Highlands, Richard C. Babson of Gloucester and Rev E. Mil. Babson of Gloucester, and Rev. E. Mil-

Babson of Gloucester, and Rev. E. Milton Grant of Magnolia.

Mr. Everette E. Truette, organist of Eliot church, rendered an appropriate program of music.

A largely attended reception followed at the home of the bride's parents on Hyde avenue, Newton.

After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Ambler will reside at 224 Washington street, Gloucester, where they will be at home in November.

The bride was a graduate of Smith. 1917, and is a granddaughter of the late Samuel M. Sayford, the noted evangelist. The groom is general secretary of the Gloucester Y.M.C.A. and the author of numerous short stories. the author of numerous short stories

So simple has been the solution of the St. James street widening problem that our sagacious city fathers should receive full credit. I would like to see them showered with applause cards such as grateful radio listeners send to broadcasting stations in acknowledgement of some especially fine offering. In the case of our Board of Aldermen such a demonstration could be arranged at the next public meeting. I think, however, it might be well if all citizens present were searched beforehand to make sure they would not attempt to throw anything heavier than cards at the board members.

Until within a short time it seemed there could be nothing done to relieve the existing difficulty caused by the narrowness of St. James street—that is, nothing but widening. Those who in their ignorance never dreamed

And he led me to — Of course you've guessed it. There was the former "hotel" and barroom, built over with additions and a new front, and occupying a worthy place in the attractive setting of this picturesque. New England village.

Now then if every country barroom of a decade ago could now be pointed out as a community house where would the "wets" find their arguments?

Not long ago in this column we said it would be interesting to hear how our friends passed their vacations. Several have thoughtfully favored us with that information. We print herewith three crisp messages out of the assortment:

From "Emersonian"—"I spent most of my time reading, and I am sure it did me good mentally, but I can't tell whether the eye strain was severe or not. Not that I am getting a thirst for knowledge or have a desire to become intellectual. I read practically every day because the weather was so rotten I couldn't do anything else,"

"Thank you just the same, but I think I shall call on his daughter."— Harper's Magazine.

Didn't See It

Recently I asked a man, who has arrived from Europe on one of the frivo-lous hotels that are now used as ferries, whether there were any rough ries, whether there were any rough days. "I haven't the slightest idea," said he; "I never saw the sea from port to port." It appeared that he was on one of the enclosed decks some 60 feet above the water. There is an insulting confrast between the artificiality of the modern floating palace and an element so primitive as the ocean; it is like a dining car passing through infinite miles of sagebrush .- Scribner's Magazine.

Emerson

If this emotional nature lacked warmth, what eminently it possessed was an exquisite refinement, and a constituent of his refinement was an innance, dictation, patronage, caste and material superiority whose essential grossness repelled him and whose ul-timate origin in contemptuousness. stinctive antipathy to ideas of dom! timate origin in contemptuousness— probably the one moral state except cravenness that chiefly he deemed con temptible—was plain enough to his penetration.— W. C. Brownell, or "American Prose Masters."

Odd Idea About Birds

Hibernation of birds was accepted some early writers. It is mentioned Aristotle, while much later, in 1702, London, another idea related to bird migration was made public in an anonymous treatise. In it, it was sol-emnly declared birds escaped cold weather by flying directly to the moon, where they spent their winter days. The journey was supposed to require sixty days' time, according to the estimators of that date, the birds flying constantly and without food, life being suprained by the abundance of fet the sustained by the abundance of fat the little feathered travelers had stored on their bodies. That book is said to have had wide circulation and its teachings were accepted by many.

Radio for the Deaf

It depends entirely upon the type of deafness and the degree to which it deafness and the degree to which it is developed, whether a radio can be of assistance. Persons who are entirely deaf or nearly so cannot be aided by this instrument, but successful results have been obtained by persons whose hearing is partially affected. The reason lies in the fact that when the ear phones are used the sounds are greatly magnified, which enables them to distinguish sounds more readily. The inmagnined, which enables them to dis-tinguish sounds more readily. The in-strument can be tuned to such a de-gree as to make the incoming sounds very loud, in fact, a great deal louder than the speaking voice or other sounds.

GASOLINE GOSSIP

Gasoline is in the air. The fumes of it circulate over our streets. The atmosphere in the Newton aldermanic chamber is filled with it at every meeting. The demand for gasoline station permits in this city grows apace. The more that are granted, the more are asked for. Two new station permits were granted Monday night, a hearing was held on another petition, increased storage capacity was granted to wo stations, a sidewalk filling station was changed to a drive-in station, two petitions were referred back to the License Committee for further consideration—and new petitions were received for five more filling stations.

Judge Thomas Weston opened the "gasoline program" by asking that Richard Monaghan, for J. V. Monaghan & Sons, be allowed to change the sidewalk pump at the corner of Auburn street and two leading from Mushington street. He told the Board that the Chief of Police favors the change as it will make this corner more safe for traffic. There was no opposition.

No person appeared to oppose the petition of Richard T. Leahy for a filling station at 1447 Washington street. James P. Gallagher, attorney for Bennett Rockman, explained that his clieved for the care with th opposition.

No person appeared to oppose the petition of Richard T. Leahy for a filling station at 1447 Washington street. James P. Gallagher, attorney for Bennett Rockman, explained that his client asks for a permit on the same locus asked for at a recent meeting by Gulf Refining Company. He said that while no opposition had developed against the petition of the Gulf Refining Company, Mr. Rockman had decided to enter a new petition in his own name, as he is the owner of the land and desires to assume the responsibility as the interested party. Alderman Norman Pratt asked if Mr. Rockman intends to operate the station blurgers?

sponsibility as the interested party. Adderman Norman Pratt asked if Mr. Rockman intends to operate the station himself? Mr. Gallagher replied that the station will be conducted in the manner which experience has shown will afford the most efficiency and economy to its customers. Later in the night the License Committee recommended that the permit be granted and the Board so voted.

The Rockman petition having been "aired", Mr. Gallagher again took the floor in behalf of Albert T. Stuart who petitioned that he be permitted to increase the storage capacity of gasoline at his station 1637 Centre street, Newton Highlands from 2000 to 5000 gallons. Mr. Gallagher explained "that the gasoline business has developed rapidly of late. "A year or so ago, a filling station would sell but one grade of gasoline. Today stations provide customers with good gasoline, better than "good gasoline", and in some cases extraordinary gasoline. Just, as before the Volstead Act, certain filling stations sold "50 proof", "75 proof", and "100 proof" fuel, filling stations today sell some automotive fuel that is much more peppy than other liquid. Mr. Gallagher informed the aldermen that the different grades of gasoline must be stored in separate tanks—hence the need for a greater storage capacity.

Mr. Ross informed the aldermen that Capodanno received a permit in 1922 for a side-end of the lot at the corner of Lexingwalk pump which he located at the tip ton and Freeman streets. He has changed the location of this pump to allow for a drive-in station and wants to erect a building in connection with the station. City Clerk Grant read a letter of protest from residents of that neighborhood who object to such a building being placed in a residential district. Maxwell Hutchins asserted the petition is simply a step to transfer the station to some big oil company. He asked why the pump had been located at the corner when the permit granted a few years ago specified that it be located at the rear of 349 Lexington street, 250 feet distant? James Garvey of 117 Freeman street, told the aldermen that his house was located nearer to the former site of told the aldermen that his house told the aldermen that his house was located nearer to the former site of the Capadanno filling station than was the Capadanno house and that he and his family had been frequently awakened late at night by autoists looking for gasoline. THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Newton high defeated Natick high on Claffin Field last Saturday aftermonn 18 to 6 before a crowd of over 2500 spectators. Newton again showed marked improvement over tide proceeding game, and outdid themselves on the defense by making perfect tackles time after time. Natick was penalized several times for the illegal use of ends and rough playing.

Proctor kicked off to Natick's 10-yard line. McGlone ran it back to the 26-yard line. Two plays netted but four yards. Natick was penalized 20 yards and was forced to kick from be hind her goal line. Nugent got off a poor punt and Bennett downed it on the Natick 8-yard line. Gilligan and Proctor took it to within a yard and a half of the goal in three plays. Proctor tossed a forward to Spain for another score. Spain's attempt at goal was blocked.

In the last quarter Coach Dickinson began to inject his substitutes into the lineup and Natick began to gain a little confidence. Forcing Newton back Natick soon scored against the substitute aggregation with Donovan going over from the five-yard line. The attempt at goal was blocked. During the remainder of the game the play was confined to mid-field.

NATICK NUGGETS

It was the first and quite probably the last time that Natick high school will have a place on Newton's schedule. Such flagrant violations of the rules and "dirty" tactics as some of the visiting players resorted to is not to end the game.

The Newton players tackled like like in the game.

The Newton players tackled like if ends. There was hardly a single fiends. There was hardly a single watchle that was not perfect. Hard, clean tackles, which are usually the saception instead of the rule in schol-astic games, were the outstanding fea-auture of the Dickinsonian outfit. Captain Andres played his usual stellar it game at centre and got in many good atackles. In prior games he has not had the support of his teammates that he subould have had, but he did not have to do it all by any means last he should have had, but he did not permit the Natick carriers to get through as often as has been the case heretoforo. It was the first and quite probably the last time that Natick high school will have a place on Newton's schedule. Such flagrant violations of the rules and "dirty" tactics as some of the visiting players resorted to is not tolerated by the Newton authorities. Football, played according to the rules, requires a rugged and healthy constitution to withstand the normal rough usage of bodily contact and hard ground. But when the participants indulge in slugging and unwarranted roughness under cover and out of sight of the officials in charge of the game it is time that those players should be ostracized. When the man of the first quarter after Newton had made its first score. It was Natick's ball on the visitor's 40-yard stripe. The Natick centre, Walsh, who was playing his first game since recovering from a dislocated shoulder, made a bad pass which escaped the back and nearly hit the referee who jumped out of the way just in time. Bennett was through on the play and but for the fact that he was off balance and falling forward could have picked up the game it is time that those players should be ostracized. When the man with the ball has been tackled and some other opposing player comes along, sits on his head and jumps up and down on him, or when a player deliberately hits the man on the ground in the face with his clenched fist, that player has broken every rule of sportsmanship, and shown himself to be unfit to represent any team on the athletic field. It is hard to believe that any coach, scholastic or otherwise, would permit the players under his direction to indulge in such methods.

The high school band made its initial appearance and won the approval of the crowd. The band was financed by the class of 1924, which as its graduation gift to the school, gave sufficient funds to purchase most of the instruments. Later additions were made by succeeding classes. The Newton Rotary Club sponsored a special ticket sale for the benefit of the band which went to defray the cost of the uniforms. Well over one hundred spectators witnessed the game in a section reserved for the Rotarians. Nearly four times this number of special tickets were sold, so that the band is assured of sufficient funds for some time. Shortly before game time the band marched onto the field and into the section in the stands reserved for them. Here they played under the leadership of Charles R. Spalding between the periods. During the intermission between the halves the band paraded around the field and was accorded considerable applause. At future games the band will be present to enliven' things and lend encouragement to the team. The roster of the band includes the following: Charles R. Spaulding, Con-

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

It will be interesting to observe how many non-voters will take advantage of the present opportunity to have their names placed on the registration lists. Let's forget the light vote in the recent state primaries, which is something of which Newton has every reason to be ashamed, and look forward. Instead of scolding both the men and women of our city for their failure to perform a plain civic duty we should urge them to make sure it doesn't happen again.

And now for those who are eligible perform a plain civic duty we should urge them to make sure it doesn't happen again.

And now for those who are eligible to vote but who are not officially on the lists. If they lived in almost any other Massachusetts city they would find more than one individual at their door arguing the importance of the ballot. These other municipalities take their politics more seriously than Newton. They are quite apt to go too far, however, and play the game for all there is in it. Such a state of affairs has its disadvantages, as I have sought to point out in this column.

Surely Newton people have had an object lesson—six of them at least. They have seen that a popular candidate can be elected and reelected and then some. How has it been done? By votes. And how have these votes been obtained? By seeing to it that the registration lists contained the name of every man and woman known to be in favor of the candidate.

If Newton desires to hold up its head as a community where civic pride is uppermost it has got to show it at the polls. Both political parties in Newton, as I view it, are content to take things as they come. They seem to think people need not be urged to register. But human nature is no different in Newton than elsewhere and a potential voter is quite unlikely to put himself out unless convinced that it is necessary.

It isn't too late for a little hustling. Advice as to the proper observance of the deficit by paying a terrifically high tax-rate. I wish that more visit-form to little from the citizens of Philadelphia, if, as a minformed, there is no different in Newton than elsewhere and a potential voter is quite unlikely to put himself out unless convinced that it is necessary.

It isn't too late for a little hustling. It is is to be set wan I know of to tell others how it may be done.

It has been suggested that I submit my written impressions of the Sesqui' Centennial exposition. Indeed Mr. Cabot Park, the columnist, has challenged me. Like the older and more illustrious members of the Cabot family, John and Sebastian, he is a discoverer of remarkable powers. So keen is his eye and so active his brain he can find things the existence of which others are completely unaware. His latest achievement is having uncovered in my previous allusions to the "Sesqui" a "high hat" attitude to ther "sesqui" a "high hat" attitude to ther "sesqui" a "high hat" attitude to wards that much-discussed enterprise. For the benefit of my friend with the recreational cognomer I should like to repeat that I have never held any but the sincerast wishes for the "Sesqui" and never was. I merely said I was glad Massachusetts had not let itself in for any such financial targle and "white elephant" in celebration of a great historical event. I still believe Philadelphia has made a mistake but that conviction calls for my sympathy and such I would freely bestow.

The efforts of the people of Philadelphia deserve a far wider support than they have received. The chief fault of the "Sesqui" management, it appears, was their eagerness to open

Jhat unmistakable charm about a home amid New England's hills

WHAT is the secret of the charm of a New England home? Not expensive furnishings, certainly, nor obeisance to every new whim that fashion dictates.

No, it goes deeper than that. These New England women—and they have a reputation as good housekeepers to uphold-know how to rearrange, to redecorate, to refurnish; to make evident the beauty of old furniture, draperies, rugs.

In nonor of those attending the Conference in a reception proffered by the hostess Club.

The Wednesday morning session will be open at 10 o'clock, the address of welcome being tendered by Mrs. C. E. Harris, president of the Hyannis Woman's Club. Mrs. Arthur D. Potter , the new State president, will make her first responsive address at an open meeting of the organization which she heads. A "High Light Review" of the Swampscott Annual Meeting will be given by Mrs. R. O. Harper, Chairman of American Citizenship Committee of the Hampden County Women's Club; and "Mirrors of the Biennial" will be held to view by Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith for the morning sessions, and by Mrs. Mitton J. Rosenau, president of the Boston section of the Council of Jewish Women, for the afternoon sessions. "Petergraphs" by Mrs. Paul A. Peters promises something especial by interesting. "Interpretation of the Aim and Attainments of the New England Conference," will bring to all Clubwomen this news that so many were unable to hear at first hand. The afternoon session, at 1.30, gives pleasure in an organ recital, in "Greetings" by Mrs. Heman A. Harding, Director of the First District, and in an Address "Education that Trans-

Good Citizenship

With the thought of Clubwomen

(Signed, Mary Pratt Potter)

It is to this woman who leads us in ideals of Citizenship, that the Greenfield Woman's Club—the Club that holds in such loving esteem our new State president—is tendering a reception on the afternoon of Friday, October 15th, to which all the Clubs of the fifteenth district have been invited to send delegates. This opportunity to welcome Mrs. Potter to her new office, and to pay her homage for the happy past years, has been gladly seized upon by her associates in western Massachusetts.

Following the thought of interest in

Following the thought of interest in voting, Mrs. John H. Kimball, the new Legislative Chairman of the State Federation, gives this message to Clubwomen: "During the coming year let us try to make politics and legislation as popular subjects of conversation as auction bridge and our neighbors' affairs. They may be quite as absorbing and exciting, if we have as keen an interest in them and as clear an understanding of them."

And Mrs. Arthur D. Crockett, State Chairman of Community Service, calls to our attention that the voters who stayed at home—thousands of folk known as "civic slackers"—live somewhere! Maybe a few of them live on your street, in your neighborshood, and for the honor of your town you can make sure these slackers are not included in the list again! She also offers some constructive suggestions that sound very much like those our planning committee talked over recently to be reported to Newton's delegates last Tuesday evening at the Newton Club. Your Editor repeats them gladly for, strangely, they voice the sentiments she herself expressed at that committee meeting: "See if you can not have in your community a place where political and civic information can be easily obtained. People, often, do not know when or where they can register—have such information available and remove that excuse! Many are not familiar with the qualifictions of the various candidates—records of each one's past achievements and future promises are very wellords of each one's past achievements and future promises are very wel-come. Sample ballots which timid vot-ers can study and become familiar with at leisure are much appreciated.

The General Federation Chairman, Mrs. Alvord, recommends having, preprimary, informal meetings at which prospective candidates for office may be considered, and the undesirables eliminated, so avoiding long lists of aspirants at primaries.

Lastly, Mrs. Crockett recommends "Coming-out parties" for the young people, just becoming eligible for registration, with music, dancing, refreshments—and "rousing good patriotic

Fall and Voting. Inseparable hardy annuals! And just as Newton is arousing, under the American Legisland and reship, to some plan for informing voters upon the many issues of a campaign, it is noteworthy coincidence to find that messages from many of our Clubwomen have to do with this duty of citizenship.

Mrs. Arthur D. Potter, the State president, who may always be counted upon to say wise words upon a vittal subject, in her opening message to state clubwomen declares "that it has become imperative that we educate ourselves in the duties which have come to with Citizenship. These include a better understanding and a greater appreciation of the spirit of the propose and safeguard. It will mean a momentous thing when every mother can also peril, when education for the mother of tomorrow will teach citizenship in the daily life of the home.

"Clubwomen should increase their efforts to inspire a higher type of citizenship and urge that every eighbe person should show appreciation of the right of citizenship which drifts out from the home unit to the polls. and I leave you in the hands of Mr. Underwood and Mr. Bates as those who will carry on all that is fine in our traditions and achievement.

I am leaving because this church is in the very best condition now to be transferred to another leader. Everything is harmonious and life floods every department of the church's activity.

I leave because I have ambitions in the years I hope still to have before me to carry certain ideas in the field of education, I do not feel that I am leaving the ministry, but merely entering service in another company whose ends are the same.

I leave because I think it is good for you to have a change. I recognize that I look at things from a very personal standpoint. Most people can only agree with me in part. This makes me suspect that there are sides of the truth which are very important but which do not happen to appeal much to me. These other sides of the truth ought to have their chance on the next generation. "Everybody puts first his own point of view, but it is not the whole truth."

Then it goes. There will never be another the same.

But the starchouses of God's bounty are cammed with undiscovered beauty. Here this group of human beings has come into lovely blossom. It will do sagain, for other latent forces unitative. So I conclude my ministry here with two verses. One is the text which I do out if it will fill this house with provide the developed of the truth with an every personal standpoint. Most people can only agree with me in part. This makes me suspect that there are sides o

Seeing that I am not going to be pastor of another church, I think I may be permitted to say a few things Seeing that I am not going to be pastor of another church, I think I may be permitted to say a few things about the kind of man you should look for as the new minister. (1). I am old fashioned enough to be lieve that a minister ought to be a really religious man. You must be able to distinguish between professional religion and the genuine article. It is very easy to preach eloquent sermons on morals, on politics, or Bible History and to have the net results as barren of religion as a proposition in geometry. Yet you will enjoy such sermons, they will be interesting and instructive and inspiring. But do not be taken in by them if they lack power. Power manifests itself when on Tuesday or Friday you are reminded of the Sunday service and find yourself actually doing something for the love of God which adds to the happiness of some other person. You will have to distinguish between pumped up pulpit emotions and the genuine article. I tell you a secret. It is quite easy to pull out the vox humana stop in your voice and produce wide emotional results in a congregation by pathetic stories of men with tears running down their cheeks, or children being put to bed nights—and yet to have the whole result artificial with you any effects on life:—Because the emotion was simply pulpit emotion, pumped up professionally for the occasion.

You want a man that doesn't talk about God and about religion, but is himself religious so that no matter what his subject, through it thereforemes to you a sense of what he sees, what he has thought, what he feels, what his will has achieved by the power of the Most High.

You want a man free from bigotry—who understands the Roman Catholic and Christian Scientist, even the Congregationalist, and rejoices in what seems to him genuine in their systems, and does not descend to indirect slurs upon those who differ from him, founded upon subconscious dislike of them.

You want a man who has got through the complicated stage, and

If you find a man who is really religious, and is free from bigotry and subconscious hate of others, he will be liberal in his thought and will lead you on that way which brings you towards the full truth.

I like to think you will choose one whose power is in attraction rather than compulsion. Who makes goodness so lovely, so desirable, that his service wins by its beauty as well as compels by its truth.

I am quite aware that in speaking thus I am condemning myself. But there is no reason why you should not do better next time.

Now I look around at all things:—At you who so many of you are bound to me by bonds that go deeper than tears and unite not merely the two of us together but include in the silver cord some one dear to both of us now unseen,—at you with whom I have shared the highest happiness and with whom I have gone also through dark places where the shadows seemed so fearful it was hard to believe that they were but shadows.

Comparison of the conference which consisted of Miss Emma Coolidge, Grosvenor Calkins, Maynard to this conference, but could not attend. Hutchinson, William J. Doherty and himself, has decided that no existing organization in Newton was properly qualified to carry out the work in view. It recommended that a committee of twenty, to be composed equally of men and women be selected from representative citizens of the city to co-operate with all existing organizations, to increase interest in citizenship in this city. This committee should be strictly non-partisan in character and should not be confused with "Good Government" or "Voters League" movements.

Leon Rogers asked Mr. Bartlett if the financing of the project had been considered? The latter replied that the committee of twenty would determine the financial question. Mr. Bartlett said that it is generally admitted that the Republican and Democratic City Committees in Newton are not functioning. This statement brought a rejoinder from Alderman Baker, who stated that he has served 10 years on the Republican Ward Committee, and he knows the difficulty of bringing persons to register and vote. He told that his Ward Committee has

The following resolutions have been adopted by the trustees of the Newton Savings Bank on the death of Mr. Clinton L. Eddy.—
Clinton L. Eddy died Sept. 8, 1326. He was elected a corporator of this bank in January 1924 and a trustee in January 1925. A native of this city and educated in its schools, he was always interested in the agencies which added to its growth and to the welfare of its citizens. He believed the Newton Savings Bank to be an institution for the benefit and help of the community, and its success and growth were ever matters of concern to him. Now, therefore, be it resolved, that in his death, we, his fellow trustees, have lost a valuable friend and colleague, this bank an interested official, and the city an honorable and loyal citizen. And be it further resolved that this resolution be printed upon our records and a copy sent to the family of Mr. Eddy.

The storekeepers at Newton Corner are wrathy over the deliberate manner in which the Boston Elevated went about repairing the tracks at that business section. They claim that their business suffered a considerable loss through the clearing of a large of the section. through the closing of a large part of Nonantum Square to automobiles. The merchants contend that the "Elevated" should have had a night-crew working, and thus finished the job in about half the number of days consumed.

The law which goes into effect the The law which goes into effect the first of next January, compelling automobile owners in this state to carry liability insurance before their cars can be registered, has caused a large army of men to have been appointed as agents for insurance companies. These newly appointed agents, or solicitors, for the most part, are trying to obtain business for companies recently formed. There are in Newton to obtain business for companies re-cently formed. There are in Newton many insurance brokers, men who have been established in this business for years, who are experienced and re-liable. They represent insurance and liability companies of strength and de-pendability. It, perhaps, will be wise for those taking out automobile liabil-ity insurance during the next couple of months, to obtain such policies from of months, to obtain such policies from licensed insurance brokers who represent companies which have withstoothe test of time.

Monday night at the aldermanic meeting a resident of Oak Hill objected to a permit being granted a neighbor to build a barn because the building would be located but 34 feet from her bedroom windows. She said "It would not be pleasant to have a barn housing eight cows and fifty hens so near one's chamber." This protest brought back to some of us memories or "Sunny France." In the rural sections over there the farm houses are so designed that the cows, hens—and everything, are located practically within these buildings. It was an arrangement that did not meet with the enthusiastic approval of the many Americans who were forced to sleep in such close proximity to such unusual "fellow lodgers."

FIRST MEETING OF THE NEWTON LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Mayor Childs gave an inspiring and enlightening talk to the Newton League of Women Voters Wednesday evening in the rooms of the Welfare Bureau, 11 Austin street. He explained in his clear-cut and entertaining way "How the City of Newton is governed," telling very carefully about the various departments—their duties, who fulfills them and how they do it. The mayor said that good citizenship is a duty neglected by too many people. We owe to the government under which we live, a good citizen. We cannot have any better government than we do people, so he implored every one to use the great privilege they have of voting, and he explained the necessity of voting at the primaries. He lauded the Newton League of Women Voters for the purpose for which they are the primares. explained the necessity of voting at the primaries. He lauded the Newton League of Women Voters for the pur-pose for which they are organized, and he also praised the fine work done in the schools for Good Citizenship which are being inaugurated by the Massa-chusetts League of Women Voters.

The support of Newton fans is a great help to the Newton eleven and there should be a large number making the trip next Tuesday. The game will be called at 2.30.

BURR TENNIS ASSOCIATION

The finals of the Fall Tournaments of the Burr Tennis Association are to be played this week and next.

The mixed doubles final will be played tomorrow at 2.00 P.M. between Grace Sutcliffe and Francis Broughton

At Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, Charles Barba of Newton is leading the harriers, being the main-stay of the cross country team. While at Newton he was a member of the track team and a good hurdler. At the same institution is Chester Pratt, last year's huge tackle, who is romping all over the backfield as fullback and getting tremendous distance to his punts, averaging sixty and seventy yards.

Clem Coady's ankle injury which he suffered in the Geneva game will keep hm on the sidelines tomorrow while his team meets Holy Cross. It is not yet possible to determine whether the big Newton boy will be able to take his position against William and Mary a week from tomorrow or not.

Jake Stafford will probably call the ignals for Harvard tomorrow after oon at the start of the game.

Tom Gilligan will take the field tomorrow in the Exeter Academy backfield against the Yale freshmen outfit at New Haven. The former Newton high star received a slight injury to his weak ankle and was forced to sit on the sidelines while the New Hampshire eleven defeated Cushing Academy last Saturday, 3 to 0. "Frenchy" Gilligan, Tom's older brother, was the most consistent ground gainer for Exeter and tomorrow, paired with his brother should go even better. Carleton McCullough, star end at Newton last year, played one of the wings for Exeter.

"Dotty" Wright directed the Dear Academy eleven last Saturday agains the Holy Cross freshmen which the Franklin team won, 13-7.

Country Day school defeated Johnson High of North Andover, 20 to 6 last Saturday. In the first period Capt. Greene of the local private school eleven got away on an end run and raced the length of the field for a score. In the third period he tossed a forward to Garrison, the quarterback, who scored after evading three opponents. Garrison scored the other tcuchdown on straight line plunges in the second session.

"The Big Red Train" screeches as we roll into Ithaca and climb the hills that give rise to the words "Far above Cayuga's Waters." Here is where the students of Cornell gather and here as in many of the colleges we find boys from Newton progressing on the tramelled road to higher education. Without a doubt the University's engineering course is one of the most difficult of its kind in the country, and a student who has successfully passed the requirements is worthy of his degree. Although Cornell is co-educational, the fairer sex are in the minority, in consequence, many believe it

One of the greatest all-around athletes that Newton ever developed is going into business for a year until he returns to take up his studies. Henry Johnson, who recently spent as season at Loomis in Connecticut, was a three-letter man at Newton, and the finest tennis player for his years in this part of the country.

A lied with two or three other men to bring Newton to the fore in track. A member of the relay team that made the memorable trip to Philadelphia, he was one of the best dash men in the New England states. He went out for football and would have been a great end but for the coaches fear of possible injury, which kept him out of the game. Upon his advent to the heights of Ithaca he injured his back, which forced him to stay away from competition during his freshman term. But the following year he made his first bid for a place. He pushed Russell regularly and finally found his niche as runner-up to the American champion. If he continues in the line of his past attainments he may possibly be a successor to his leader.

From Newton last year went one of its best men in the journalistic line. Robert D. Quick, Newton '25, was one of the founders and real workers on the "Newtonite," the school organ that has taken such high rank in scholastic circles. NOTED SOLDIST

Marjorie Warren Leadbetter, the noted New England soprano, is now the soloist at the Newton Centre Baptist Church. Miss Leadbetter needs no introduction to a Greater Boston audience but it is interesting to mention a few facts about this much-heralded singer.

Miss Leadbetter's first musical tendencies were strongly manifested at the age of six, and were concentrated the age of six, and were concentrated on the piano.

Her parents, both prominent musically, were insistent upon their daughter becoming a concert pianist, but fate decreed otherwise. While studying the piano, she would often play her own accompaniments to favorite songs, and it was on one of these occasions that the beauty of her voice was revealed. Her friends prevailed upon her parents and pleaded with her to devote her future to voice culture.

Before she was sixteen years of age and before taking vocal lessons, Miss Leadbetter was much sought by schools, churches and various musical organizations. She had it firmly in her mind by that time to become a soprano soloist, both in concert and oratorio work. At the age of sixteen she accepted a position as church soloist, meanwhile studying for a brief period in New York. Subsequently, she studied with Leverett Merrill of Boston, her present teacher.

Miss Leadbetter has been soloist in several of the larger churches of the Commonwealth, and for many years was soloist of the Central Church of Boston. Her extensive work in concert and oratorio is well known.

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB

Bertram C. Larrabee, salesmanager of the Sheldon School of Boston, was the speaker at the weekly luncheon on Monday of the Newton Rotary Club, held as usual at the Woodland Golf held as usual at the Woodiand Golf Club.

Mr. Larrabee used diagrams on the blackboard to illustrate his talk on Rotary Education and how to translate it into man power for service. One illustration showed a triangle of which Quality was one side, Quantity another and mode of conduct the third, all resulting in Service.

Service, he declared was a fundamental principle with love at its base. In the business world there were four angles to consider, self, the other fellow, the goods we sell and mutual understanding. Man power, according to Mr. Larrabee was the result of Ablity, reliability, Endurance and activity.

The evangelistic meetings were pic-tured, one held in a low stable like building where the dim light of a lan-tern showed Dr. Strong and Dr. Potter

The first meeting of the season was held on Wednesday, and there was a banner attendance, 200 seated at the table.

Dolls' clothes engrossed the attention of the sewers and grew fast under experienced needle women usually occupied with larger tasks. Very significant however, Mrs. W. F. Warner assured the workers, are these dolls. They are to be sent with thousands of others to Japan to grace the Festival of Dolls and convey to the Japanese children the good will of America. Each doll must travel with a ticket and passport.

The evangelistic meetings were pictured, one held in a low stable like building where the dim light of a lantern showed Dr. Strong and Dr. Potter as they conducted the service. A sheet on the side of a Hindu temple would furnish background for lantern slides of Bible pictures. Temple worshippers would join the attentive group who never tire of sermon, prayer, or story. Some come from curiosity, but the thoughtful observer can distinguish those faces which are illuminated by the Christian spirit.

At Scholapur the leper colony was visited and also the mission for the riminal caste, through missionary effort; now designated "The Industrial Mission." The outlook for the children the sord was served by Mrs. Charles Lynde.

Lynde,
Luncheon was served by Mrs. Charles Lynde,
Lynde,
Luncheon was served by Mrs. E. F. Kenney and her committee. Mrs. Lottite E. McCertney and Mrs. Otto Bachmann were the luncheon chairman. A Litany of Peace was read responsively and Mrs. W. H. Allen, the president, said that World Peace would be the keynote of thinking for the year.

Mrs. Allen spoke of the ingathering, the result of the seed suggestion made at the May meeting. There was a grand march and the offerings were dropped in a beautiful design made of fall fruits.

Mrs. Decealur speaker of the effect.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Announcement is made by Dr. and Mrs. Frank R. Stubbs of 510 Centre street, Newton, of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Dow Stubbs, to William F. Hessler, formerly of Huntington, Long Island, N. Y., and now of Boston.

Announcement of the engagement was made at an informal dinner party on Sunday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Stubbs, where the guests were the college friends of Miss Stubbs and Mr. Hessler. There are no immediate plans for the wedding.

Miss Stubbs is a graduate of Dana Hall, Wellesley class of 1921, and was graduated from Smith College in 1925. She then spent a year abroad, in studying at the Sorbonne, in Paris, and in travel in Europe and Africa.

Mr. Hessler, who attended Columbia University and also the University of New York, served for two years overseas, in the World War, as a First Aid man.

Mr. Richard Cunningham presided at the banquet with Mr. Victor Loring as toastmaster.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs was the first speaker and welcomed the distinguished guests in his usual eloquent manner. Mr. Childs paid a high tribute to the former members of the Association. He believed that military training developed manhood and character and was of great benefit to the youth of the country. He called attention to the change in the personnel of the old company and that which went out in 1917. The old company was composed of American born youth, while that of 1917 was largely foreign born, and the world War demonstrated that the hyphen was made to unite and not to separate.

Major Ira Longanecker, Corps Area Air Officer said that the first battles were on land, later on the sea and the World War demonstrated that the ext battle for supremacy would be in the air. He said that the air serv

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

EVERETT 3, NEWTON 0 Once again Dick Ahlin, Everett high school halfback, proved to be Newton's nemesis in the annual Columbus Day battle between the two elevens in the opening game of the Suburban league race. Last year Ahlin scooped up a Newton fumble behind his goalline and raced 105 yards for a touchdown—the only score of the game. Tuesday he defeated Newton singlehanded with his beautiful punts which forced the orange and black to play on the defensive the greater part of the game. Then, when the break came, he booted the ball over the bar with but little more than three minutes to play in the final session from the 25-yard line with one of the prettiest placement kicks that one could wish to see. His quarterback, Jack Fisher, held the ball.

The break came after Ahlin had

The break came after Ahlin had punted to Spain, standing on his 30-yard line. The Newton quarterback had given a wonderful exhibition of how to catch punts all the afternoon, and the crowd, which numbered around 7,000, gave a gasp when a sudden twist of the ball carried the ball out of his reach and it rolled to the 10-yard line. John Proctor, who also had performed brilliantly all the afternoon and had nearly held his own in the punting duel with Ahlin, was forced to kick hurriedly. The ball carried but about fifteen yards before going offside. This gave Everett the ball on the 15-yard mark. Two plays, one a loss of two yards and another a gain of one yard, brought the ball over directly in front of the goal posts and gave Everett its one chance to score. First period—At the kick-off Newton was reciving and defending the east goal with a fair wind at its back. Ahlin kicked off to Spain on the 15-yard line and he ran it back to the 28. Proctor got away to a beautiful start around the Everett left wing. Once around he cut to his right and had a clear field but for Jack Fisher. Everett quarterback. Fisher made a clean tackle or Proctor would have gotten away. This gain of 30 yards put the ball on the Everett 30-yard line. Here Newon fumbled and Everett recovered. Proctor stopped Ahlin for no gain and the Everett leader junted to Newton's 22-yard line. Proctor kicked but Everett was offside and was penalized five yards, the ball being brought back. Here the break that beat Newton came when, after signalling for a fair catch the ball escaped Spain altogether and rolled to the 10-yard line. Everett's field goal followed as described. With but three minutes to play Newton played with vengeance. Ahlin kicked off to Gilligan on the 12-yard line and he ran it back to the 30-yard line. On the next play Everett nailed Gilligan for a twoyard loss. Cady went in for Scheinfain and Woolston for Wilkerson. Two incomplete passes and Newton was penalized five yards. Gilligan had the second pass in his hands and it would have made first down but he failed to hold it and it went for an incompleted pass. Perry replaced Gilligan and Proctor kicked to the 48-yard line. Here Everett was penalized 20 yards for ccaching from the sidelines. Macev relieved Brown. It was too much Ahlin. He is easily the best punter in scholastic circles and he has a perfect right to that rating. All of his punts were about perfect. However, no less brilliant was the way the Newton backs, Spain in particular, handled them. Not once did the Newton backs drop one that they got their hands on. And they were the hardest kind of punts to catch. Some trick of fate seemed to take the ball away from Spain in the third period when he falled to get third period when he failed to get under one of the Everett leader's Newton was beaten by a better team. The margin of superiority was scant to be sure and can be measured in about one word—Ahlin. Had Newton had a man of his ability to punt the score might have read differently. He repeatedly kept Newton in her own territory and was content to wait for the break.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

New England Conference

Many Massachusetts Clubwomen and a few from Newton among them, attended the New England Conference, held at Whitefield, N. H., October 8th, 7th, and 8th. Owing to the necessity of a three-hour wait at Woodsville, thorough curtailed train service after the summer schedule, many Clubwomen arranged to make the journey by auto, stopping at Plymouth for lunch, then travelling through Franconia Notch. Those going by the central Massachusetts route enjoyed the Connecticut Valley trip by way of Windsor Vt., or Charlestown, N. H., depending upon the side of the river upon which they journeyed, and many turned saide to follow the new State depending upon the side of the river upon which they journeyed, and many turned aside to follow the new State highway to view the St. Gaudens Memorial and to see the studio of this famous sculptor. The beauty of these trips through autumn foliage can well be imagined by those less fortunate. Besides the receptional and social functions planned to honor their guests by the hostess Federation, of which Mrs. Guy E. Speare is president.

which Mrs. Guy E. Speare is president, and which gave such pleasurable op-portunity for renewing Club acquaint-ances and forming new ones, the out-standing message that has come back to us takes as its motif the upbuilding to us takes as its motif the upbuilding and maintenance of New England in its "proper position of leadership." Mr. A. L. T. Cummings, secretarymanager of the Maine State Chamber of Commerce, in speaking on "Why New England Needs Advertising," appealed to New Englanders to have a just appreciation of their section of the country, and not to hesitate to express it. It is not a New England trait to be effusive over its cherished the country, and not to hesitate to express it. It is not a New England trait to be effusive over its cherished interests, and possibly that is why we seem cold to an onlooker such as the speaker, rather than to have the lack of appreciation which he deplores. Mr. Cummings claimed that we have foller into the way of undervaluation. fallen into the way of undervaluation, fallen into the way of undervaluation, of thinking that other parts of the country have superior advantages—could he be thinking that the enthusiastic boosting of Californians had overwhelmed and impressed us—or are making greater achievements than New England, so blinding us as to the ful achievement. The fourteenth and fifteenth districts announce that contributions for thirteen acres of land for their District Forest have been pledged by twenty-one Clubs. The declaration of trust has been drawn up and approved by the law office of Irving R. Shaw of Springfield, with Mrs. Alfred J. Norton a former president of the Springfield Woman's Club, chosen as a trustee. Three trustees and a representative from each contributing Club serve as a commit se in management of the forest. The location has not been decided upon, but A. C. A. Galarneau, assistant State forester, is trying to find land which will meet the requirements. Planting will take place in the spring. Here is a concrete, effective way to combat the forestry decline, and one in which all citizens, Clubwoman, or business man who has long deplored conditions, can join. After all, discussion and bewailment mean little. Action to remedy is the need! And Clubwomen have shown the way!

MUSIC. Mrs. Alice Drayton, Music Chairman, asks if there are any women interested in forming an orchestra. She says the State Federation has many musicians in their midstviolinists, 'cellists, flutists, etc.—and ful achievement. The fourteenth and fifteenth districts announce that con-

NEWS FROM THE COLLEGES

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

Way down in the settlement founded by Roger Williams, in the present I City of Providence, situated on a high Fill, very high indeed, is Brown University. The home of Bruno, the Brown bear, whose fame is sung throughout the country by graduates of the University. Famous, no doubt for its many and varied styles of Alpine climbing, it also affords pleasure to the casual passer-by by reason of its attractive campus, and adjacent buildings. The Brown University's chemical instruction department is one of the best in existence, more so now since to its ample equipment has been added the new Arnold Laboratory, which is a most complete investigation plant for all manner of research. Not strictly in the Academic line but closely akin to it, is the huge new athletic plant given by the graduates of Brown for the furtherance of athletic activity. The new Stadium and the near-by ball park are points of interest in the development of Brown as a bigger University.

Roger during the years at Newton was out for football until an injury forced him out of the game. He also was on the track squad for a few years. His biggest achievement was in the line of dramatic skill, playing the leading role in "My Lady Roquetry," Mr. Francis L. Bacon's play, in which he showed unusual ability. He also enjoyed a considerable reputation in English and the literary lines. At Brown he is a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, and is on the soccor squad, having an excellent chance of starting the season as a regular because of his consistent playing in the defensive line. Charley Johnson was on Newton's championship football elevens, playing tackle on the second team. He also ran under Mr. Dickinson's direction in the year 1923 and was the same year a member of the English and Mathematics Club, being scribe of the latter. A former Brown man who transferred because of illness, to Boston University, is Charles J. Brown of Newton Highlands, Newton, '22. A greatrunner while in high school he has been handicapped by illness at college, although he did make his numerals as a freshman. After graduating from Newton he spent a term at Cushing Academy and from there he entered Brown. A member of the Zeta Psi fraternity and a popular man on the campus, he is missed this year on the Hill.

—At the Newton Centre Unitarian Church next Sunday morning, October 17, the minster, George Lawrence Parker, will speak on the sermon topic, "The Laws of the Spiritual Life." It is now common scientific knowledge that the entire universe is a universe subject to law. Things do not happen by mere chance. But in the personal and spiritual life, most people leave things to chance, accident, or luck. The truth is that until we recognize law in the spiritual and religious life, and in all social contact, we are the victims of chaos and disorder. To suggest some of these laws will be the purpose of the sermon.

The Newton aldermen indulged in a big talkfest Monday, Oct. 4. In addition to an unusual amount of talk on that very prolific subject—"gasoline filling stations," there was much oratory, or near-oratory, on the matter of giving to the firemen of Newton the two-platoon system. After this subject had been debated for about two and one-half hours, some of the aldermen claimed to be so dubious concerning this question, that they asked for a further postponement of action upon it, in order that the whole matter might once again be discussed in microscopic detail.

The meeting was called to order at recent meeting to protest against eleven poles being erected on that street are satisfied with this solution of the problem, and that apart from one resident on Endicott street, no person objects to the poles on that street.

City clerk Grant read a protest signed by several old residents of Jefferson street against the petition of Mary J. Dunn, who asked for a permit to build a 3 car garage at 14 Jefferson street. Mrs. Dunn claimed she needs a garage of this size to afford room for her tenant's auto, her auto and her son's auto. The aldermen compromised by granting her a permit for a 2-car garage. Dr. F. W. Putnam was granted a permit for a henhouse at 103 webster park, and George Mumford a permit for a greenhouse at 24 Essex road. John A. Janse asked the aldermen to grant him a permit to build a cowbarn and henhouse at 443 Parker street, Oak Hill. He said the Board of Health has approved of the plans for this structure. Mrs. Margaret McHugh of 439 Parker street objected to the location of the proposed barn. She stated that Janse has plenty of room in the rear of his house where the barn can be placed. Miss Margaret McHugh told the aldermen that the proposed barn will be but 34 feet from the bedchambers of the McHugh home and that it would be unpleasant tested that it is considerably farther removed. Later in the meeting Mr. Madden informed the Board that it is considerably farther removed. Later in the meeting Mr. Madden informed the Board that it is considerably farther removed. Later in the meeting Mr. Madden informed the Board that the restricted to use the shaden of the published in Newton the last publication to be one day, at least, before said for its published in Newton the last publication to be one day, at least, before said for ort to snow that the board of the ploty erry is as near to her house as the Janse barn will be, but she asserted that it is considerably farther removed. Later in the meeting Mr. Madden informed the Board that Janse had for some time leased a barn, from Mrs. McHugh and that terms could not be satisfactorily arranged for a renewal of the lease so that he desired to rebuild his barn on the foundation where the old barn had stood. According to Alderman Madden, the McHugh barn is as near the McHugh house as the proposed Janse cow domicile will be. The permit to build was granted to Janse.

Out of 30 petitions for 1 and 2 car garages, 28 were granted. The two permits held up were those of Law wrence Tocci for a 2 car garage at 48 Winchester road, Newton, and Belger at 74 Cook street, Newton Highlands, J. Edward Callanan was given a permit to build an automobile salesroom and service station at 399 Washington street. Lower Falls. Antonio Bazzola was granted a permit to store 500 gallons of gasoline for private use at 254 Adams street. The License Committee recommended the granting of the following permits—Bernad. Riley, 459 Auburn street, auctioneer's license; Harry E. Stevens, 431 Washington street, Ledeler in second hand autors; W. G. Girard, 101 Irving Court, Westervary 2 Gardelers at Val Veorges 2 (Collarence L. Newton, Esq., 190 Collarence L. Newton, 190 Collaren ington street, dealer in second hand autos; W. G. Ington street, dealer in second hand autos; W. G. Girard, 101 Irving Court, Watertown, 2 first-class taxi licenses; Patrick Bianchi, 97 Linwood street, truck license: Mary E. Sloan, transfer Intelligence Office license from 340 to 312 Centre street.

The report of the Claims and Rules Committee on various petitions for compensation for damages was adopted. Alice M. Rich was allowed $70 for damages caused to her automobile by a defect in a public street; Arthur T. Lovett was given $30 to pay for damage does not bis auto by a car of the Sewer Department; Merrill T. Nutting was allowed $60 for repairs on his auto. The Nutting machine was commandeered by the police to chase a fugitive, and damaged while the pursuit was on. Mrs. Dorothy Whittlesey was refused compensation for damage done to the clothing of her son while the boy was watching a street being oiled; Joseph Harris was refused compensation for damage done to his auto by a blast set off by employees of the Street Department. It seems there is a mighty fine distinction between different municipal departments when it comes to collecting compensation for damages done to one's person or property through the negligence of public employees or defects in municipal property. If one suffers injuries from a vehicle owned by the Street Department, one cannot collect damages. But, if one is hit by a vehicle owned by the Sewer Department, damages may be paid. Why the difference? Because the maintenance and care of highways is a public necessity. Sewers are a public convenience. You cannot sue a city department engaged in a function regarded as a necessity, but you can collect if the function is merely a public convenience. How wonderfully intricate the Law is!

Upon the recommendation of the Finance Committee the aldermen appropriated $582 for a sewer in Highland street, $1025 for sewer construction on Commonwealth avenue, $700 for the kindergarten at the Horace Mann School, $95 for repairs to the Wade School, $600 for office expenses Street Department.

The Board voted to authorize the Street Department, $1000 for new nose-Fire Department.

The Board voted to authorize the Mayor to accept the deed from the West Newton Memorial Library Asso-ciation for the land and building on Chestnut street. On motion of Alder-

The meeting was called to order at 7.50 by President Pratt; Aldermen Bliss and Hinckley were the only absences. No opposition appeared to the petitions of the Edison Company for pole locations on Beacon street near Garland avenue, River street near Waltham, Dorset road near Locke road, and Endicott street near Plymouth road. Alderman Bail asked if the location of the two poles on Endicott street will cause objections. ABBOT B. RICE

Abbot B. Rice, State Senator from the 4th Middlesex District, died sud-denly Sunday morning from a cerebral hemorrhage at his late home, 106 Sumner street, Newton Centre. He had been in poor health for several years. He was born in Hopkinton, April 1, 1862, and was educated in the scholes of that town and at Brayn Link. schols of that town and at Brown University. For many years he was presity. Gent of the Gleen Shirt and Collar Company. He also was treasurer of Butler's Department Store. In 1912 he was elected a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen. In 1915 he was a candidate for Mayor against Hon Edwin O. Childs, but was defeated. From 1919 to 1922 he was in the Legislature as a representative from Newton. In 1922 he was elected as senator from the 1st Middlesex District. He was relected in 1924, and again this year received the Republican nomination, which would have chols of that town and at Brown Uni can nomination, which would have caused his reelection for another two years, had he lived. He was very years, had he lived. He was very active in the Legislature, gaining much publicity for his attacks on in-creases in telephone rates, extension of the Boston Elevated Control Act and the Public Utilities Commission.

He was a member of the Royal Arch Chapter, Knights Templar, Mid-dlesex and Massachusetts Republican Clubs, Boston and Newton Chambers of Commerce, and the Economic, Brae-burn, Country and Boston City Clubs. His wife who was Amy T. Bridges His wife, who was Amy T. Framingham, died in 1923.

of Framingham, died in 1923. He is survived by three sons—Adams T. of Detroit, Willard W. and Lawrence B. of Newton Centre, two brothers—Alfred B. of Newtonville and Wilbur of Worcester, and three sisters—Mrs. Arthur Frost of Newton Centre, Mrs. Charles Johnson of Westboro, and Mrs. Everett Claffin of Hopkinton. The funeral services for Mr. Rice were held Wednesday afternoon at his late home. They were conducted by Rev. E. M. Noyes, assisted by Rev. F. E. Emrich of Jamaica Plain, who officiated at Mr. Rice's wedding. Among those present were Gov. Fuller, Presidents ciated at Mr. Rice's wedding. Among those present were Gov. Fuller, President Wells of the Senate, Senators McLane of Fall River, Bliss of Malden, Kidder of Cambridge, Dagget of Somerville, Moyse of Waltham, Warren of Arlington, Perham of Chelmsford, Snow of Westfield, Hartshorn of Gardner, Wragg of Needham, McCormack of South Boston and Moran of Mansfield. Mayor Childs and several of the aldermen represented the city governmnt. The flags on public buildings throughout the city were hung at half-mast during the period between Mr. Rice's death and his burial. Interment was in Newton Cemetery.

FORMER RECTOR DEAD

Rev. James Clement Sharp, a former ector of the Church of the Good Shepherd at Waban, died suddenly resterday in the Hotel Touraine, Bosnouth, after a trip to Chicago.

Mr. Sharp was born in Newton, Aug. 1869, and was the son of S. T. Sharp and Emlly E. Sharp. He was raduated from Harvard in 1894 and cook a course at the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, from which was graduated in 1897.

He was ordained to the ministry by Bishop Lawrence and was first associated with the late Rev. John Cotton Brooks, a brother of Phillips Brooks, at Christ Church, Springfield. He remained there for seven years and then came to Newton, where he developed a community church into a large-sized parish which was named the Church of the Good Shepherd. He remained here for 15 years and then went to Rockport, as it was thought the change would be beneficial to his health, which had been failing.

WELFARE CONFERENCE

A most attractive luncheon was served at small tables, after which some announcements were made in regard to the summer activities of the Newton Central Council, under the auspices of which these welfare meetings are held. Of particular interest was the fact that the Peabody Home is about to become one of the memberorganizations of the Council.

Mrs. L. H. Marshall, Chairman of the Welfare Division of the Council, introduced Dr. Gerald Hoeffel, Assistant Physician of the Home, who spoke to the group on the methods

tant Physician of the Home, who spoke to the group on the methods used at the Home in the treatment of crippled children, especially that used in cases of bone tuberculosis of which a large proportion of the children in the Home are victims. The method demonstrated by the Home to be most effective is heliotherapy, or direct contact of the body with the sun's rays. Afterward those who went thru the Home saw rows of bright-eyed, laugh-Afterward those who went thru the Home saw rows of bright-eyed, laughing children lying stretched out on the glass-covered porches, in harnesses or casts, but in most cases no whit depressed by the fact. That these children are nearly all cured is what saves the onloader from depression.

he onlooker from depression.

Mrs. Nellie Smith, the Superintend-Mrs. Nellie Smith, the Superintendent of the Home, but really its Guardian Angel, Mrs. Marshall sald, guided a most enthralled party thru the Home. In one of the school rooms the party was entertained by a group of the children, all in harnesses or bandages of some sort, but moving with agility in spite of the handicap. The children had just read and on the spot dramatizd a fairy story, which they acted out for the benefit of the guests. They threw themselves into the parts with the greatest zest and no self-consciousness; altho a crippled boy as a king on a throne, or a stalwart prince bent on adventure, gave the spectators something of a pull at the heart.

When Mrs. Smith half-apalogized for some toys left about, one of the guests said "Oh I like it, it makes it seem like a real home." "There's nothing I would rather have you say than that," was Mrs. Smith's reply, and indeed the Home is a home a particular. that." was Mrs. Smith's reply, and in-deed the Home is a home, a particular-ly happy and well-ordered one. Only those children are there whose own homes cannot provide them with the kind of treatment and care they need; but one wonders whether money can furnish anywhere else such an atmos-phere of comradeship, patience and

AMERICAN ART

Oct. 10-20 has been set aside as American Art Week; but few Americans realize that the art of this country extends beyond sky-scrapers and apartment blocks. And too,—all the art treasures of painting and sculpture are not in the Louvre and British Museum. Therefore, why not learn something of what great Americans have done on canvass and in marble? Many clubs will find that the study of American Art is extremely interesting, and affords many topics for discussion.

The Newton Free Library contains an extensive collection of mounted cheerfulness.

At the last meeting of the aldermen, the Finance Committee reported adversely on the recommendation to appropriate $4000 to start the two-platoon system in the Newton Fire Deparment. The Finance Committee had conferred with various experts and committees to obtain information regarding the situation regarding fire protection in Newton and other cities. Alderman Grebenstein suggested that the 14 members of the Board, not on the Finance Committee, should also confer with experts, so that they too, could have more information regarding the question before they decided the two-platoon matter. Accordingly, a meeting of these 14 aldermen was held last night. The only absentee was Alderman Bliss. Aldermen Fitts and Heathcote, who are members of the Finance Committee.

NEWTON 13-CAMBRIDGE LATIN 0

Newton high gained a 13 to 0 verification of the Cambridge Latin school eleven last Saturday at Russell field, in a Suburban league game. Cambridge lacked the life and spirit which usually characterizes their play. Prior to the game it was a question whether Newton would win or not, but Cambridge failed to make even a single first down. They had apparently played themselves out against Rindge on Columbus Day. The score does not show Newton's superiority. Contrary to what has taken place in most of Newton's other games when the local eleven was on the defensive the greater part of the time against the Cantragonal. It was the first toss that Captain Cook of Cambridge won the toss and elected to defend the south goal. It was the first toss that Captain Cook of Cambridge won the cost of the country of the time against the Cantragonal. Captain Cook of Cambridge won the toss and elected to defend the south goal. It was the first toss that Cap-tain Andres has lost this year.

In the New Hampshire State line-up for the game with Rhode Island State was the name of Hodges. Steve Hodges used to play for Newton in 1923 as a relief centre for Oakes. He is a senior at the Durham Institution and has been a member of their football squad for three years.

When Dean Academy feft before the onslaught of the Dartmouth freshmen, one Newton boy made a gallant effort to stave off defeat. George "Dotty" Wright, who during the season he spent at Newton dem-onstrated his ability in open-field running, came into his own, being the main cog of the Dean offense in the second half.

Newton will play Somerville high next Saturday, October 30th, on Claffin Fleld, in its third league game of the season. Newton now has the upper hand on the Dickerman outfit, but it was not so many years ago that a de-feat by Somerville was the usual thing Newton will have to play football to win, as Somerville showed its strength against Providence Tech and St. Mary's high elevens.

Last Saturday, although Brookline won from St. Mary's high 7 to 0, the

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB

Mr. Vincent G. Stanley, president of the Gamewell Fire Alarm Telegraph of Newton Lower Falls, and a former member of the club, was the guest and speaker at the weekly luncheon held as usual on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club.

Mr. Stanley has recently spent several months in England and Europe and gave the club his impressions and his observations of conditions abroad.

He believed that France was financially able to take care of itself but not until the people there stopped hoarding their money in the proverbial stocking and placed it in the banks. He was not at all impressed with conditions in Italy, and said they had but little manufacturing and still used many crude devices. He found much to commend in Switzer-land. ound much to commend in Switzer land.

He was in England during the big strike and was quite pessimistic about conditions in that country. Labor was paid but 8 cents an hour, the highest skilled workmen receiving but 32 cents an hour. He told of the class feeling which existed and how the London business man went to his office attired in a frock coat and silk hat. On one day after a long session on business matters which were just brought to a head, the conference was interrupted by the coming of the tea wagon and for 15 minutes no business was discussed and the psychological moment lost. The Englishmen take much more interest in sports than in this country. Several ilshmen take much more interest in sports than in this country. Several hundred thousand people attend the big games and races and nearly everyone bets on the results. For several days before the Perby day and several days after nothing is discussed but the betting and the races.

Mr. Stanley told of the Dole sys-

Mr. Stanley told of the Dole system under which men are kept in idleness while others are taxed for their support. These doles amount to about §6 a week for a single man. He believed the Labor Party was a loadstone on the English government as its members had no conception of public welfare.

The coal strike is still in progress, he said, and thought the trouble was largely due to the fact that the older mines were not operated on modern principles and cannot be made to pay. In closing Mr. Stanley commented on the fact that American made goods are in much demand not only in England but in Europe as well.

To Please the Man of the House As Well As Fastidious Women

There is nothing he enjoys quite as much as collars done so carefully that they are exquisitely laundered and folded. Neat piles of them in his drawer give him untold pleasure.

Many women require that every article o wearing apparel be spotlessly clean and flaw lessly ironed.

Nurses' uniforms must be crisp perfection.

Deliveries In All The Newtons

IN 1925 we experienced a tremendous coal shortage. During this time White Oak

Coal mined in the heart of the famous smokeless coal fields of West Virginia was brought to our attention. We have made a thorough investigation of this type of coal, and are now ready to make immediate deliveries and recommend its purchase.

We suggest that you investigate White Oak before ordering your winter supplies. We have stocked this coal because we feel that in so doing we are better able to solve the heating problems of our customers.

Thousands of New England homes are now burning it with the utmost satisfaction.

Fuel experts appointed by the New England Governors have investigated this type of coal, and report that it contains more heat, less ash waste, and if bought at two-thirds the price of New England's usual

fuel, that the consumer actually gets twice

The first meeting of the season of the Newton Community Club was held on Thursday, October 14th, in the hall of the Underwood School, with Mrs. J. Porter Russell, the president, in the chair. The stage was effectively decorated with autumn leaves and a basket filled with cosmos stood in front of the President's may be featively decorated with the singling of "America" and "the Star-spangled Banner" by the Club, led by Mrs. R. LeRoy Schell at the piano, and members of the chorus. Then followed the salute to the flag.

After the acceptance of the minutes of the last meeting and some announcements, Mrs. Russell presented the speaker of the afternoon—Mrs. Stella Marek Cushing—well-known as a violinist, vocalist, music editor and composer. Though born in this country, her parents were Czecho-Slool.

Mrs. Cushing gave first a sketch of the history of her people, from the beginning of the kingdom of Bohemia in *1068. In spite of constant wars and its final subjugation in the sixteeth century by the Austrian Hapsburgs—a subjugation which lasted 400 years, until the recent founding of the Czecho-Slovakian republic—this branch of the great Slavic race kept its identity in language and national customs.

Artistically the Czecho-Slovaks excel in many lines, but their greatest contribution to the arts has been through music. They have a saying, "Every Bohemian baby is born with a violin under its chin."

Mrs. Cushing then retired for a few moments during which time her accompanist, Mrs. Dorothy Evans, played on the piano selections from Czecho-Slovakian composers. When Mrs. Cushing reappeared she was in Ex-Alderman William J. offers as one suggestion to increase the number of persons voting in New-ton—"that the polls be kept open until 9 P. M., instead of closing at 4.30 as at present."

As we admired the elegant appointments of Roy Randall's renovated ice cream parlor, we could not but think of the change which has taken place in the "ite group" industry, since we in the "ice cream industry" since we were a kid. In those days there were were a kid. In those days there were no ice cream parlors in Newton, except Paxton's, and we ordinary kids did not possess enough coin to enjoy the cold delicacy at that establishment. The wholesale ice cream business had not come into existence, and what little ice cream was sold by drug stores was made on the premises. The only source of supply within the means of "us kids," was an old Italian who drove a little canvas covered wagon. He had a long route through Newton and surrounding towns and reached here only a couple of times each week. He announced his coming by ringing a large hand-bell. His cream could not compare with that enjoyed by the compare with that enjoyed by the present generation of youngsters, but it tasted real good to us on the infrequent occasions when we managed to get a nickel to purchase a little of its constant of the constant of the constant of the constant of the compared to get a nickel to purchase a little of the compared to get a nickel to purchase a little of the compared to get a nickel to purchase a little of the compared to get a nickel to purchase a little of the compared to get a nickel to purchase a little of the compared to get a nickel to purchase a little of the compared to get a nickel to purchase a little of the compared to get a nickel to purchase a little of the compared to get a nickel to purchase a little of the compared to get a nickel to get a nickel

A well known citizen remarked to A well known citizen remarked to us the other day that one of the most notable accomplishments in the city during recent years is the improvement of North street, Newton Centre. From an unattractive road, impossible for travel, this street, which for over a score of years has ended abrupty on a bluff overlooking Commonwealth avenue, is being transformed into a well graded, attractive highway which avenue, is being transformed into a well graded, attractive highway which will greatly increase the value of surrounding property. This improvement can be attributed solely to the persistency of John M. FlztGerald, who undaunted by repeated rebuffs, so pestered the aldermen, that he finally righted the injustice which has been four to the past quarter century by repeated rebuffs, so pestighted the aldermen, that he finally righted the injustice which has been borne for the past quarter century by residents of North street. As there is another North street in the city, and as it is the desire of city authorities to eliminate duplication in names of streets, we would suggest as a tribute to the long labors of the gentleman who brought about this improvement, that the name of this North street be changed to FitzGerald Road.

It is interesting to observe the content of the prize will be determined regardless of the form of kicking which he does—punting, dropkicking, and the practice session Monday afternoon, Coach Dickinson took the third and final major step in his system of our alder.

It is interesting to observe how some of our aldermen will strenuously oppose the granting of permits to gasoline stations in their own wards, but are quite in favor of having permits granted in other wards.

The act of the old retired members of the Newton police department in marching from St. Bernard's Church to Calvary Cemetery at Waltham, as a mask of respect to the late Capt. John Ryan, entailed considerable physical strain on these aged men, some of whom are somewhat feeble. To one of their number, a walk of this distance was a mere jaunt. Captain "Bob" Harrison, though 75 years of age, is as active as most men much his junior in years. Mr. Harrison keeps fit by chopping wood and taking long hikes.

While the adverse action of the aldermanic committee on the matter of establishing the two platoon system for members of the Fire department, was anticipated, we believe there is much to be said in favor of the plan. much to be said in favor of the plan. We fail to see why there is any discrimination between policemen and firemen on the matter of hours of service, as it has long been the settled policy of the city to treat them on the same basis on the matter of salary and vacations. Undoubtedly the hours for firemen what the result of the city of same basis on the matter of salary and vacations. Undoubtedly the hours for firemen were the result of the old volunteer system when the young men of the place were glad to have the opportunity to sleep in the fire station in order to be ready for the fun of fighting a fire. It was comparatively easy to go from this system to the paid call force where sleeping accommodations were a part of the small compensation. The next step was to keep the long hours when a permanent force was established.

With this history, the justice of treating firemen and policemen, both of whom serve the public in the matter of protection, has been somewhat obscured, but it would be only just nevertheless to give them the same hours, or in case of the firemen to work towards that end by abandoning the present cumbersome one day off in three plan for the two-platoon system.

CITY OF NEWTON

From October, 1925, to June, 1926, over 800 girls were registered as Scouts by the Newton Council. We have 20 troops in the different villages in our city, need many more to take care of the girls who are already placed in overcrowded troops and those who are eagerly joining this fall.

To have these troops we must have more leaders, many more. But we also want the intelligent interest of those who do not have time to be leaders or time to serve on committees but who could co-operate with us by knowing and understanding our work and spreading it to others.

Two courses in Scouting are to be given,

The need of additional traffiv officers in and near Nonantum square during the rush hours of the late atternoon and particularly on the days of the big football games, is most urgent. Pedestrians run the risk of their lives in attempting to cross the streets in this vicinity at such times.

The prime reason he explained is because people frequently drive up to this pump, supposing it to be a public filling station.

He told the Board that persons owning property across the street from the desired location, do not object to the permit being granted, and that Mr. Spring owns most of the surrounding property on the west side of Needham street, extending South as far as the property owned by the Holtzer-Cabot Company.

The next petition heard was that

Mr. Corplinger stated that he had purchased nine acres of land from the Holtzer-Cabot Compiting this land. There were no objectors to either Mr. Spring's or Mr. Coppinger's petitions, and as one locus is in a manufacturing zone and the other in the only is probable that both may be granted. Since Needham street seems to be developing almost solely as a gasoline district, a couple of more stations will, perhaps, do no harm. Monday Club of Newton Highlands

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

A Musical is being arranged by three members of the Monday Club for the emjoyment of their associates and fortunate guests on the afternoon of the same busy day in Club life—the 25th. Mrs. Murt S. Wallace, Mrs. F. S. Fairchild, and Mrs. George W. Barker are planning this pleasurable surprise of talent. One of the inviting tactics of this Club is to bring before their group a program that has not been fully announced, so arousing in a most alluring way the human quality curiosity. So in stating there will be a musical there is the wondering as to artists and what they will do to entertain, and all members of the Club hie themselves to the home of their hostess, Mrs. Ruth Mick, 370 Dedham street, Newton Centre, not only to enjoy the program provided, and the social intercourse, but to see just how good guessers they were as to who was to appear before them.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The same date is of interest to many members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, who are enjoying the "trips" of the Travel Class not only to many distant fascinating lands but to long-past days of many worth while people. Mrs. John R. McLean will open her home on that Monday afternoon, the 25th, at 2.30 P. M., and Mrs. Clendenning Smith will give a paper on "Moorish Architecture and the Alhambra," after which Mrs. Arthur D. Batson will give one on "Granada and Seville."

NEWS FROM THE COLLEGES

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

This journey takes us deep into the hills of New Hampshire, to the land of the Wah-Who-Wah's, that famous tribe of Indians, who wear the royal green, and shout their lusty war-cry from the citadels of the village of Hanover. Perched up among the highlands (queer, isn't it, how colleges have a way of collecting on the heights,—it must be an added factor in the state of higher learning) stands Dartmouth, the home of more the heights.—It must be an auded factor in the state of higher learning) stands Dartmouth, the home of more Newton men than any other college at the present time. Famous for her football teams, she is equally famed for her selective system, that she introduced into collegiate circles. Only the cream of a high school class can enter its portals, and it speaks well for Newton preparatory standards that so many of her graduates matriculate there. Here is located the well-known Tuck school, one of the best, if not the best, schools for business training in the country. And last, but best of all, the ladies acclaim, here is the site of the garish Winter Carnival, that fiesta of such enchantment and varied interest that it intrigues the most distant lookeron. Wrapped in the green blankets with heir medallion-like D's, the sachems, diversity of extra-curricula activities and among his records are numbered the class secretaryship for four consecutive years, membership in the various clubs that make up the student contacts with the departments, and a member of the Senior play cast. He, too, like his contemporary. Arnold, was manager of football, only his service was in 1923. At Dartmouth he has continued his literary pursuits, and is owner of one of the show-rooms of all college living-quarters. His arrangements and fitting have received a great deal of praise from competent critics besides being pictured in magazines dealing with interior decorating problems. "Peanut" Willing was a member of the English and Spanish Clubs, and interested in the managerial competitions during his time at Newton. In Charles Bartlette, Newton has reason to be prought of the Red Cross are welcome to attend.

the monthly publication of the high school. Dissatisfied with the results, he, borrowing to some extent the idea of Everard Jordan, a class-mate, who had issued a crude, hand-printed weekly, advocated a weekly newspaper for Newton High School. Backed by the officials, and meeting with welcome response from the student body at large, he organized the paper that today is known as the "Newtonite." Also he was president of the Mathematics Club, when it was newly formed, and a member of both the Student Council and the English Club. At Dartmouth he has combined with the aforementioned group, to give Newton a high standing in all lines of college life. Next week we will continue with the stories of the lesser chiefs down to the shivering neophytes who await their initiation with interest.

WILL CLEAN MAIN UNDER RIVER

The next job to be tackled by the National Water Main Cleaning Company will be the task of cleaning the 24 inch main running under the Charles River from the Needham side to the pumping station. This pipe carries the water from the supply conduit to the pit at the station and requires cleaning every few years because of the amount of sediment which forms in it.

CUTLER-DUNMORE

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Duri-more, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Dunmore of Balcarres road, West Newton and Mr. Charles Cutler of Roxbury, took place last Saturday evening, in the Second Church of West ewton, the ceremony being per by the former pastor, Rev. Dr. J. Edgar

Just after midnight, Wednesday morning, Box 714. was pulled for a fire in the brick building 552 to 562 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre. The blaze started in the cellar of the stores occupied by David Ring, druggist, Jacob Brisson, tailor, Okemo Cake Kitchen, John T. Connor Grocery and John Frederickson painter. Considerable damage from fire and water resulted in the stores occupied by these concerns. When Chief Randlett arrived he ordered a second alarm. The burning rubber in the tire shop caused considerable smoke and odor in the neighborhood. The cause of the fire is unknown and the damage will amount to about $5000.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

If your interest in political candidates is not sufficient to draw you to choose between alrows and coin there is the contributed and the property of the contributed and what they are you to choose between alrows and coin they contributed the summary of the contributed and what they are you to choose between alrows and coin they contributed the summary of the contributed and what they are you to choose between alrows and coin they contributed the summary of the contributed and what they are you to choose between alrows and coin they contributed the summary of the contributed and what they are sufficient to the interest that they are the contributed and they contributed the summary of the s quarters to obtain speakers for a rally in his district. He is quite likely to magnify the importance of that occasion. He suggests, quite firmly, that the entire State ticket appear. In fact, he says that the people out his way feel they have been neglected and that if the party wishes to "win the district back" it has got to make an impressive display of its love and affection for the voters of that particular locality. The State committee is persuaded and acts accordingly. When the schedule is made out and distributed the spellbinders may question the committee's wisdom, not aware of all the circumstances. But nevertheless the candidates decide to "go through" and in order to do so often have a struggle between a sense of duty and their own judgment. That, however, is only one feature.

The principal thing is that there is an almost impossible demand placed upon the candidate. He must expend every ounce of energy, go without sufficient sleep, eat irregularly if at all, and appear in fine form before an audience at all times. If you want to know how he feels for two weeks prior to election just call to memory your own feelings after a sleepless night and multiply that by 1,000.

Have I touched your hearts? Maybe I haven't but I hope that I have told you something that you may not have heretofore considered with any vast feeling of sympathy. Hereafter, when you find yourself listening to a political orator allow yourself to be a little indulgent. Remember in the first years of his may can be cannot from the entire state appear.

Hensedves became involved in a hirsty may complete his book for an dear while the regularly whether acken while appear. prior to election just call to memory your own feelings after a sleepless night and multiply that by 1,000.

Have I touched your hearts? Maybe I haven't but I hope that I have told you something that you may not have heretofore considered with any vast feeling of sympathy. Hereafter, when you find yourself listening to a political orator allow yourself to be a little indulgent. Remember of his membership he was active on the floor as broker for his firm, but in to be a little indulgent. Remember allarer years confined himself largewhat he is up against, not meaning, of course, the audience he may be adversing at that moment.

And now to turn from art to ience. Does anybody know anything e do more often and less scientifically than picking up coin with gloved hands? These are the days when we find gloves indispensible, while coin to be a little induigent. Remember what he is up against, not meaning, of course, the audience he may be addressing at that moment.

Frequently we hear of a "lost art." Is it possible for one to discover or re-discover such a thing? If that be the case I am wondering if I have not tumbled on something that used to be and which is no longer. Or is it that I am wrong and possess a warped perspective—an oblique point of view?

We all know that there are such things as ash barrels and try as we may—or some of us at least—we cannot avoid contact with them in one way or another. These barrels must be filled, for there is no other receptacle for ashes, papers and other refuse. And they must be rolled to the edge of the sidewalk once a week in order that they may be emptied.

Regardless of whether one gives the personal touch to rolling out his where the "lost art" comes in. Are the men who toss the barrels on the trucks losing the skill of emptying the barrel? Now and then we have seen barrels that were not completely empty. Maybe there was more than the legal amount of ashes or paper in them? If that is the case there is no more to be said.

I feel, however, that we should help these men all we can and if we find that they are placing the barrels back on the sidewalks with part of the original contents intact we ought to be. Shall we serve you half-portions hereafter?"

And now to turn from art to science. Does anybody know anything the parish, conducted the services the parish, conducted the services to fit the parish.

ABOUT TOWN

There is no member of the Board of Aldermen for whom we have more respect than Alderman Madden of Ward I. He is usually right, but, we cannot agree with the argument he advanced at a recent meeting of the aldermen, when he opposed a permit for a filling station. He said, "If Washington street continues to be developed into an automobile district, it will be necessary to create new business districts in the city to permit the erection of stores." We have more than enough stores in Newton now. As proof of this one has but to observe the number of vacant stores in the vicinity of Nonantum Square. Most of the stores keepers in various villages of this city, ber of vacant stores in the vicinity of Nonantum Square. Most of the store-keepers in various villages of this city, are not becoming bloated capitalists on huge profits. Most of them are having a hard struggle. Mr. Madden related that real estate promoters of Newton had told him "that more stores are needed throughout the city, particularly in such places as the corner of Waverley avenue and Tremont street, and the corners of Centre street and Commonwealth avenue." As the southneeded throughout the city, particularly residual process are years and remoint acteed, and may have been purchased in India the corners of Centre street and Commonly worn on the streets by the corners of the streets by the corner of the Edward Harnden, who has been connected with the store for over a score of years, is a very efficient worker, although 78 summers have passed since "Ed" came into this world. Morris Balley, is a mere kid compared with Dr. Hudson and Mr. Harnden. Morris just reached 70 last week, and h is as spry as a kitten. To prove how agile he is, Morris will at any time, jump off the floor and easily kick an object six inches higher than himself. And Mr. Balley is six feet tall. The drug business is exacting, and necessitates long hours of labor. But, if the three veterans at the Hudson store are criterions, it is not a profession that makes men grow old at an early age.

ELLA L. DUCKWORTH, Admx. Recently at a political pow-wow in Worcester, a Democrat of prominence from our neighboring community, Watertown, blamed the Republican Party because the cotton mills of Geology 9, 1926, Massachusetts have been far from Oct. 18-22-29.

Neither can the Democratic Party make the mills return to their former activity. Not unless it can persuade the ladies to revert to former styles of dress. of dress.

The ladies formerly wore long, wide The ladies formerly wore long, wide costumes. They also wore garments known as netticoats. The skirts now worn generally by members of the female sex are neither long nor wide. And, as for underskirts. Such garments are now seldom worn. Furthermore, and moreover, what clothes the ladies do wear nowadays, are for the most part made of silk or rayon. Cotton, for clothing, is much less used than of yore. So, when the more, or less, estute politician from Watertown prates about the Republican party being responsible for dull times in the cotton industry, he may fool a few of the men, but the ladies can understand why the demand for cotton has decreased.

The former First Church Orchestra, Inc., is renewing its activities with full and enthusiastic membership. Its rehearsals are under way with zest. Its field is to be the civic community. Its concerts are to be given in the New High School Hall in Newton-ville. Soloists of distinction have already been engaged. The city is greatly to be congratulated upon the prospect thus afforded.

The concerts are to be three in number and the program for the first one is felt to be very appealing.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

Under a new coach and new man-Under a new coach and new management, soccer made its debut at Brown some days ago. This should be of some interest to Newton readers since one Roger Case, Newton '23, is a member of the aggregation that held Worcester Poly Tech to the score of 2 to 1 in their initial encounter. Roger is one of the strong defensive men on the team, and is becoming a mainstay on the backline. Coach Dickinson's Newton high out-Coach Dickinson's Newton high out-fit won a hard-fought game over the St. Mary's high eleven of Waltham last Friday afternoon 7 to 0. The orange and black scored its only touchdown in the first three minutes of play with a team composed large-ly of second string men. With the hall on the 45-yard line Spain shot a point.

The touchdown put new determination into the opponents and they began to push Newton back so that Dickinson sent in his first string men. Half way through the first period Spain attempted a goal from the 50-yard line which just missed counting by inches. As it was fourth down and Newton was offside on the play, St. Mary's took the ball on its 40-yard mark. St. Mary's by a series of criss-cross, delayed passes, and line plays which Powers mixed up well, carried to the 20-yard line before the whistle blew ending the quarter. On resuming play the opponents carried to the two-yard line where Newton held for downs. Spain got off a beautiful punt of 40-yards against the wind to put Newton out of danger. Other than that attempt St. Mary's did not get within the 20-yard line. Shortly after the second half opened Powers attempted a field goal from the 45-yard line which fell short by five yards. Clark fumbled the ball but recovered it.

Newton threatened constantly. Andres blocked a punt on St. Mary's ten yard line to start the final period but Wattham recovered and Powers kicked to midfield. Three successive first Charles B. He has been on crutches, but is rapidly coming around, and it is hoped that he will soon be able to take his post again on the Wil-liams forward line.

Newton the saled and Powers kicked to midfield. Three successive first downs with Clark carrying in three plays out of five put the ball on nineyard line. Macey and Clark made four yards on two plays. Spain called for a forward pass but in his hurry to throw the ball before he had a firm grasp on it as it came from the centre, fumbled. Fortunately he recovered it on the 20-yard mark. Resorting to the air again he attempted a field goal from the 33-yard line which just barely missed counting.

the ball to Waltham on two occasions.

There were few penalties and most of these were offside plays. In the third session St. Mary's was penal-teacher. Coach "Clucker" Johnson of St. Mary's was a former player at Newton and consequently this was his objective game of the season. Johnson was a tackle on the championship outfit of 1921 which was captained by Jake Stafford, and a mainstay in the line of the 1922 team.

Newton's starting team which was largely of second string men got the jump on the opponents and showed them some fast play. The pass from Spain to Payne was a beauty and paved the way for the score. Spain attempted several other passes in the first period which were uncompleted Each pass he made went like a bullet to the man intended to receive it but the Newton quarterback's timing was off just enough to lack completion.

Powers was the best ground gainer for the opponents and ance had a clear field for a score with the exception of Spain, whom he could have eluded easily. Andres was behind him and by a wonderful tackle brought timd down near the 25-yard line.

That wasn't the only nice tackle that the Newton leader made either. He was a whirlwind on the defence and had a share in stopping nearly every play. Andres seemed to have a knack of divining the play and if it was a forward pass he was on the like a flash and blocked several.

Somerville defeated Cambridge Latin on Dilboy Field last Saturday 13 to 6 in its first league game of the 13 to 6 in its first league game of the season. The home outfit showed considerable of an offence in going down the field for 65 yards, making five first downs, in scoring its first touchdown. Finn, Somerville halfback, scored the other in the second period on an 80-yard run. Cambridge played a better game than against Newton but one Boston sports writer criticized them for their "dumbness."

St. Mary's high eleven of Waltham last Friday afternoon 7 to 0. The orange and black scored its only touchdown in the first three minutes of play with a team composed largely of second string men. With the ball on the 45-yard line Spain shot a fast flat pass to Payne who was downed on the 12-yard line. Spain gained two and a half. Spain made it first down on the one-yard line and Macey three and a half. Spain made it first down on the one-yard line and Macey went through right guard for the score. Spain added the extrapoint.

The touchdown put new determination into the opponents and they began to push Newton back so that Dickinson sent in his first string men. Half way through the first period Spain attempted a goal from the backline.

Several fumbles have been recovered by the Newton leader this year. In short there is little about the game that he does not do well.

Rindge Technical was no match for the Waitham high eleven last Saturday. The Watch City eleven ran up a score of 40 points and held their own goal line inviolate. Local fans will get a line on the comparative play of the Newton and Waltham elevens when Newton faces Rindge Nov. 13. Coach Leary's eleven is a contender for the state title and would probably be the favorite over Newton if the two were to meet but—as in every Newton-Waltham game—there would be no favorite. Both teams play superfootball when facing each other and it has often happened that the dope has been upset. But the two will not meet this year and it is an open question when the break between the two schools will be patched up. schools will be patched up.

A week from tomorrow Newton A week from tomorrow Newton travels to Lawrence. Lawrence dedicated its new memorial field and stadium with impressive ceremonies last Saturday and then went down to a 14 to 0 defeat at the hands of Andover Academy. Continuing the story of the Dartmouth Indians we find in the junior class three former wearers of the orange and the black. John Nixon, the hockey player, who has played in various sports up in Hanover is the first one. Graduating in 1924, he left a record behind of playing football for two years, being a tackle and a fine placement kicker to boot. He also was on the hockey squad for four years playing regular wing the last two, and his exhibition against the Canadian champions is not liable to be forgotten. He also was in the Forum his senior year. At Dartmouth he played hockey and pitched for the freshman team. Last year he was a member of the varsity baseball squad, while this coming hockey season he hopes to be a member of the Big Green sextet. Herbert W. Brown of Newton Centre, who entered Newton High near the end of his junior year, is also at Dartmouth. At

Charles Darling, whose humor was such an asset to the school paper, is becoming to some extent the wit of the campus up in Hanover. Chuck was not only a humorist but he could out-Altrock Nick himself in a football uniform. He was a web-foot, too, specializing in the plunge, and varied his program by being a writer of promise. He held membership in the English Club for three successive years and was feature editor of his year book, the Newtonian. This year he chose Epsilon Kappa Phi as his fraternity. Nelson Hartstone and Kingsbury. Nickerson are room-mates both were transfers, the former from Boston Latin, while Nickerson came from Brookline. Hartstone was in the orchestra in 1924. Henry Wood of Newtonville and Joseph Lovell of West Newton round out this class's Newton contingent. Lovell was a member of both the Mathematics and English Clubs, while Wood, who specialized in the mathematical sciences was enrolled in Alpha Gamma Tau for four years. He also was on the Student Council and interested in literary affairs.

The freshman class holds two New ton men, Malcolm P. Gallagher the star track athlete, and William Fletcher, who is following in Gallagher's path. MASTER PLUMBERS HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Newton Master Plumbers Association was held Monday evening at the State Armory, West Newton. The öfficers of this organization, which is composed of master plumbers of Newton, Waltham, Needham and Watertown, are: President, Alfred G. Kerr; Vice-President Leonard Hickman; Secretary, J. H. McGourty; Treasurer, Fred Perkins. The committee in charge of the banquet included J. H. McGourty, Chairman; Messrs. A. G. Kerr, Walter Hegan, John Foster, Charles O'Neil, William Hockridge, Henry Gallagher, Over 150 attended, and enjoyed a sumptuous repast. Following the dinner Florence Howland Landers entertained with readings.

The speaker of the evening was Col. William Archer of Evansville, Indiana, lecturer for the National Trade Extension Bureau. He emphasized the need of organization and criticised plumb. The annual banquet of the Newton Channing Church, which observed last May the completion of its third quarter-century, will continue the commemoration of this landmark in its history by a "Seventy-fifth Anniversary Carnival," to be held in the parish house on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 11, 12, and 13, opening Thursday at 4 P. M.

There will be entertainments given by the children on each afternoon and the Channing Guild will present an entertainment Friday evening. Dinner will be served at 6.30 P. M. on Thursday ad Friday. Not only fancy articles but a great variety of attractive things, useful and ornamental, will be on sale Thursday afternoon about the team that your boy plays on

ALL the big college football games are complete newspaper—complete in the sense that you yourself and your town

But what about the little teams-that local team your boy plays on? What newspaper tells well and with a real thrill of the games he plays - of the way he himself played? - The Globe.

For the Globe is not cold and critical -not interested alone in the great and famous. The Globe is you-your life, your interests, your sports. Whatever is interesting in your town is reported fully and fairly in the Globe-social events, town happenings, politics, sports, school

This policy of giving full and vital accounts of local affairs does not interfere with the broad national scope of the Globe. It only makes the Globe a more and able to take care of themselves. Without experience and judgment, self reliance does not amount to much. A girl better be a clinging vine," in the opinion of Mrs. Leighton, one of the pioneer women workers in the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Leighton was the oldest club woman present, having held membership in the home club of East Boston for more than 50 years. "Gay little girls of this generation will become the strict mothers of the next batch of girls," said Mrs. Leighton. "When they become mothers themselves, they will have a realization of the thin ice upon which they skated in all their self reliance, and down will come the lid upon their own daughters. "This lid will have understanding attached to it. It will never be as strict and rigid as in the days of our grandmothers, and that is some of the good that is coming out of all this stress and upset of conditions in the world today. "One of the trouble with today is that mothers have been enjoying a little fling at freedom along with their children," continued Mrs. Leighton. "Girls of my day and even later had too much fear of their parents. Today conditions are exactly opposite, but in time they will work out all right." And, finally, there must be quoted wise words from a woman who desires to have men look upon women in the correct light—not as "ladies" whose mentality is yet to be developed, and whose opinions need the cautious, diplomatic, correcting and shaping of well-informed man," nor with the tender tolerance of masculine bending to agree that something MILK, CHILDS BROS.

JOHN VINCENT RASER

John Vincent Raser died Wednesday at his late home, 162 Waban avenue, Waban, after an illness of about a month from septic polsoning, resulting from a carbuncle. The deceased was born 35 years ago in Reading, Pennsylvania, the son of Dr. John B. Raser. After graduating from the schools of his native city, he attended St. Paul's School at Garden City, Long Island, and then entered the University of Pennsylvania, from which he graduated. He then became connected with the Auto Car Company and remained with it for some years. Latterly he has been associated with Tucker, Anthony & Company as a bond salesman. His funeral will be held this afternoon at St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands, of which he was a member. Mr. Raser had resided in Newton Highlands, of which he was a member. Mr. Raser had resided in Newton Highlands, of which he was a member. Mr. Raser had resided in Newton Highlands, or Columbus street, for about three years, moving to Waban recently. Although a resident of this city but a comparatively short time, his sterling qualities had won for him many friends, who mourn his passing. His remains will be interred in the Raser family lot at Reading, Pennsylvania. He is survived by a widow and three small children. John Vincent Raser died Wednesday

We have enough confidence in the voters of. Newton to believe that if they will take the trouble to vote, they will susually vote right,—that is to say they will susually vote right,—that is to say they will service as it appears on the ballot next Tuesday is causing a great deal of uncertainty among many good citizens, and it is a matter on which considerable can be said on both sides. We recall that public sentiment immediately after the war was strongly in favor of giving the boys who entered the service, everything possible in the way of bonus and preference and it is possible that the Legislature went too far in some directions. The great difficulty, as we see it, is caused by the fact that the law makes no distinction as to who is a "veteran." It rates the stay-at-home clerk in the war department just as high as the boys who fought in the contact with some that the law makes the object of the sun, they might properly further that it they will take the trouble to vote, they will usually vote right,—that is to say they will support the recelection of competent officials. The principal difficulty in this city is to get the individual to the polls on election day.

There should be no hesitation what sever for Newton residents to vote for the retention of Governor Fuller and Senator Butler in office for both have made an enviable record for efficiency and accomplishment and their experience and it is possible that the Legislature went too far in some directions. The great difficulty, as we see it, is caused by the fact that the law makes no distinction as to who is a "veteran." It rates the stay-at-home clerk in the war department just as high as the boys who fought in the voters of Newton to believe the women voters of Newton to believe the women voters of the first they will take the trouble to vote, the first,—that is to say they will take the trouble to vote, the in distribution to hat they will take the trouble to vote, the in the sum, they wild the first, the first, the individual to the pol this course is tollowed, the next Legislature will have sand enough to modify the present preference law so it will apply only to real veterans of the war, who, as the years pass by, receive less and less consideration from the country they helped to preserve.

Two years ago the voters of Newton as a protest against the renomination of Alonzo B. Cook, as state auditor, gave the Democratic candidate. Mr. Strabo V. Claggett—a resident of Auburndale, a vote of 10985 to 7211 for Cook. Conditions have not changed during the past two years and the retention of Cook in a responsible state office is not at all creditable to the Republican party, altho it is fair to say, that Cook would never receive the Republican endorsement, if nomination were made by convention and ination were made by convention and not by the fallacious direct primary. Mr. Claggett's record is so far superior to that of Cook that there should be no hesitation whatever for Republicans in general and Newton Republicans in particular, to give him their unqualified support. Vote for Claggett for state auditor.

clerk in the war department just as high as the boys who fought in the front line trenches in France.

And we believe it is the apparent injustice in this respect that is making the trouble today and is the real reason for the campaign which has resulted in the referendum on the ballot next week. If a distinction could be made, so that the real veterans of the war should have the present absolute preference in filling public positions, we are of the opinion that no reasonable person would object. It is the preference given the stay-at-homes which causes all the trouble.

In addition to this point of view, we believe it is a question which the Legislature itself should have settled and in "passing the buck" as it has in this instance, the General court has not covered itself with credit.

In the face of many considerations for a favorable vote on this referendum, we shall recommend a "NO" vote next Tuesday, with the hope that if this course is followed, the next Legislature will have sand enough to modify the present preference law so it will We do not believe the women voters

PROPOSED CHANGE IN

Veterans Civil Service Preference Referendum No. 2

VOTE NO VOTE NO

Question: Do our Civil Service Laws unduly favor the veteran?

My experience as a member of the Civil Service Commission appointed by Governor Coolidge for a term of two years, my experience for over five years in connection with the work of the commission after ceasing to be a member of it, as one of its examiners on legal questions, and my service for six years as City Solicitor of the City of Newton leads me to reply to that question in the negative. No veteran is appointed who is not qualified for the position His appointment bears the certificate of qualification for the position, signed by the Civil Service Commission, which is the only body in the state with power to pass upon the question, hence the preference given veterans does not harm the public service by having unqualified men in it. If the veterans are not patriots and have not a love of country exemplified by service, who has it? Is it well to instill into the youth of our country the belief that we are a grateful nation? If that gratitude is expressed by an opportunity for service, not to the detriment of the public service by placing unqualified men in it, this law does not unduly favor the veteran.

JOSEPH W. BARTLETT,

JOSEPH W. BARTLETT.

We the undersigned endorse the above statement and urge the voters to vote NO on the proposed change.

ABOUT TOWN

It was stated at the special meeting of the Aldermen, called to consider the matter of establishing the twoplatoon system in the Newton Fire Department, "that the voters of Newton turned down the petition for this change when it was submitted them through the Referendum, cause they were not properly them through the Reterendum, because they were not properly informed." Many voters in Newton were opposed to the "two-platoon" because of the publicity given to the fact that some firemen in other cities had expressed in the property of the public transfer of the public transfer of the public transfer of the property is the content of the public transfer of the pub acuse they were not properly informed." Many voters in Newton were opposed to the "two-platoon" be cause of the publicity given to the fact that some firemen in other cities in their off time. Chef Randlett is opposed to the firemen in this city performing other work and would do all be could to prevent it. In justice to the firemen it can be said that the great majority of them do not desire work other than their regular occupation and for several years the Massachusetts Permanent Firemen's Association has endeavored to have legislation and for several years the Massachusetts Permanent Firemen's Association has endeavored to have legislation and for several years the Massachusetts Permanent Firemen's Association has endeavored to have legislation be could be prevent it. The soloist of the afternoon, Mrs. Edna L. White, sang most delightfully, "What the Chimney Sang," by Griswold, and as an encore she gave, "Night Wind," by Field.

Mrs. A. J. Crockett, of the West Roxbury Woman's Club, told how the opposition to a "Movie Theatre" in their midst was overcome. She said in part: "Upon investigation we found that land had been purchased and the building in process of erection, therefore it looked like a sure thing. A Community Movement Committee was then formed to get a policy. The minister, committee, residents in general and the theatre owners dewas then formed to get a policy. The minister, committee, residents in general and the theatre owners decided to co-operate. All pictures were to be censored, proper publicity given, and the theatre kept up to standard. It has served to keep young people in their own community, given a chance to the adults to go somewhere nearby, and the church to make money."

Monday, November 1st, is the date Monday, November 1st, is the date for the opening meeting of the Waban Woman's Club. Mrs. Dora D. Warren, the new president, will conduct the meeting. Following the usual custom of the Club, this first day is "New Members' Day," when new members are welcomed by the president and old members, a wise hospitality that makes for genial relations.

Many of the Club members are also planning to attend three lectures at the Boston Art Museum on old sliver and glass, tapestries, rugs, and allied subjects. It is apparent that on November 1st many who have not already done so will be enthused to avail themselves of these many attractive opportunities. One of the satisfying features of our Club life is the wise blending of the intellectual, educational, artistic, aesthetic, and practical.

J. Walter Allen, in charge of the refreshments, has enlisted the aid of some of the young girls of the community in serving. Mrs. H. Reginald Bankart will superintend the tables, while Mrs. Leroy M. S. Miner will plan the decorations. It is hoped that the attendance will be exceedingly large to ensure both a financial and social success.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

On Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock, Miss Margaret Haskell is hostess at her home, 5 Vista avenue, to the members of the Auburndale Review Club. "California, the Sunset Land," is the delightful coutry to be visited on this day. Mrs. Austin Eaton will tell of the "Parks: Grant and Sequoia," and the making of the orthophonic records, which produce much finer effect than the older type of record. There was large attendance to hear this unsual program, and after the music refreshments were served by the hostess, and a social hour was enjoyed.

COMING EVENTS

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

The Shakespeare Club enters upon another year of interesting and fascinating study and dissection of Shakespeare's works on Saturday, the 30th of October, at 2.30 P. M., when Mrs. W. M. Mick entertains the members of this Club at her home, 559 Parker street, Newton Centre. Acts I and II of "Othello" will be presented under the management of Mrs. H. E. Durgin of Norwood, and the Quiz will open the season in awakening of the nimble wits of these Club members who take keen interest in being prepared for any question.

Waban Woman's Club

Monday, November 1st, is the date The Newton Highlands Woman'

ence W. Clark, and the district director, Mrs. Congdon, for an informal discussion of Club affairs. At 12.30 luncheon will be served in the diningroom of the Parish House. (This attractive new building affords many delightful opportunities for such entertaining.) Tickets at one dollar may be obtained from Mrs. F. A. Campbell, 281 Jackson street, Newton Centre.

The social side is enhanced by the best of music, the best of midthe Committees. The lectures are so varied in subject and the lecturers so well known that every member should find them most valuable in both entertainment and instruction. In addition to the regular fortnightly meeting the classes to be held offer an opportunity to many. These courses have been planned for those on the waiting list as well as for the members, and it is hoped that enough people will be attracted to them to make them a success.

The French classes will begin end Monday, November 1st, and will meet on Monday of each week at the home of Mrs. Nelson B. Vanderhoof, 36 Dexter road. There will be a class for beginners, and also an elementary class under the tutelage of Mile, Mathilde Marzin. Because the responses did not warrant it, the advance class which was at first planned has had to be given up.

The Glee Club will hold its first rehearsal on Friday, November 5th, at 10 o'clock at the studio of Dorothy Curtis, 297 Walnut Street.

An event of note has been planned for the afternoon of Friday, November 5th, by the Educational Committeemamely, the third annual card party for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund with Mrs. Edmund S. Whitten as general Chairman. This will be held at the Newton Club at 2 o'clock. Reservations for a table, or for single tickets at one dollar each, must be made before October 30th, by notifying any member of the Ticket Committee, which includes Mrs. J. M. Andress. ROUILLARD-HARDY

At a pretty home wedding held last Saturday afternoon, Miss Marion C. Hardy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hardy became the bride of Ir. Charles A. Rouillard of South Weymouth. The ceremony was performed at the Hardy residence on Page Road, Newtonville, by Rev. Harold L. Hanson of Charlestown, brother-in-law of the groom, assisted by Rev. George F. Rouillard of Watertown, a brother of the groom.

Mrs. Karl H. Huck of Springfield, cousin of the bride was her sole attendant. Messrs. Percy Holt of Andover, Richard Rouillard, a brother of the groom, Franklin H. Richardson of Winthrop and Karl H. Huck of Spring-

Winthrop and Karl H. Huck of Spring-field were the ushers.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Payson Allen of Newtonville, and the house was attractively decorated with autumn foliage evergreens and chrysanthemums.

After a wedding trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Rouillard will reside in Newton of the counsel of women as they now are of their votes.

It strikes me that the problem of Nonantum Square congestion is less complicated than it has been. In noticed a Waitham bus pulled up at the sidewalk and marveled that it was allowed so much of the street, linstead of coming in close to the curbing the driver had stopped at least a foot and a half away. Not only this, but he had started to turn the car and there stopped. In other words, he had taken up so much of the street that it was plainly neous. If this is the main difficulty there seems no reason why the street rail, way company should not be summoned into court along with automabile drivers charged with violation of the city ordinances. It appears, to be quite all right to pounce upon the individual operator for the slightest in fraction of the traffic rules. A passenger automobile driver who has senger automobile driver who has senger automobile driver who has generated that wierd and fantastic fraction of the traffic rules.
